Paris Requests Recall Of Russian Ambassador

PARIS, March 27 (AP)—A complete break in diplomatic relations between Soviet Russia and France appears to be foreshadowed in the recall at French request—of the Russian Ambassador to Paris.

AMBASSADOR SURITS
Paris Asks His Recall

An official spokesman charged today that France and her ally, Great Britain, were "insulted" by a telegram which the envoy, Jakob Surits, recently attempted to send to Joseph Stalin, congratulating him on the peace treaty with Finland as a stroke against "British-French warmongers."

Surits did not make use of his diplomatic immunity by sending the message in code, but instead handed it into the regular channels of the French postoffice.

The government considered the telegram, written in precise French, an undiplomatic act and an attempt by the envoy to use regular communications for Communist propaganda.

Ordinary telegrams are subject to censorship. Surits' message therefore was stopped and later sent to the French charge d'affaires in Moscow, who handed it to Russian Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov with France's request that Surits be recalled.

Even in view of the possibility of a complete rupture, there still was no indication that French military purposes would be served by declaration of a state of war between France and the Soviet Union. But if Russia makes a decisive move with Germany in the Balkans that would be another matter, it was said.

WAR CABINET MEETS

As for that possibility, the French pointed to the Allied force in the Near East and the understanding with Turkey, who holds the key to the Black Sea in the Dardanelles. Turkey, however, is not bound to help the Allies to fight Russia. Premier Reynaud's five-man in-

Woodring Defends Plane Sales

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

WASHINGTON, March 27 (INS)—Denying that military secrets will be released, Secretary of War Harry Woodring today told the House military affairs committee that the latest and best American military planes will be sold to the Allies.

Defending the policy, he also revealed that orders for the Army would be delayed as a result of foreign sales.

The war secretary, indirectly referring to rumors that he is in conflict with President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau on foreign plane sales, said "I'm not easily pushed around."

Explaining the release of the very latest type of planes to the Allies, Woodring emphasized this would be done only when the War Department had plans for improvement in the future.

GET FASTEST PLANES

- The hearing developed:
- 1.—Munitions, in addition to planes, will be released to the Allies on request.
 - 2.—The Allies will get the P-40, American pursuit plane, now said to be the fastest in the world.
 - 3.—The War Department will get reports on performance of American planes in actual battle.
 - 4.—The army will delay purchase of reserve planes and will ask a reduction of $27,000,000 in next year's budget.
 - 5.—American airplane production in 1940 will rise to 30,000 planes a year as compared to 6,079 military and commercial last year.
 - 6.—Asst. Secretary of War Louis

PROBE MYSTERY 'GAS' BLAST ON DESTROYER

NEWPORT, R. I., March 27—A Navy board of inquiry today probed a mysterious "gas" explosion on the U. S. Destroyer King which critically burned six sailors and left a seventh missing, apparently blown overboard to his death.

A preliminary report by Capt. William S. Farber, commander of the neutrality patrol unit to which the 20-year-old 1190-ton vessel was assigned, said the explosion was caused by leaking gas in the after-deckhouse.

Several containers of the gas, Capt. Farber said, were in the deckhouse and one of them leaked. The missing sailor is Richard Carl Oehlert of Denver, Col., fireman first class. Officers said he probably been tossed over the ship's side by the blast. The King had returned only last Sunday from neutrality patrol. There were about 100 men aboard the vessel, which is in command of Lieut. Comdr. E. G. Berthold. The explosion demolished the forward bulkhead. No one was in it at the time, but sailors patrolling the deck nearby were scorched by flame and their ear drums shattered.

Liberal Landslide In Canada

OTTAWA, March 27 (AP)—Winning landslide support of its conduct of the war against Germany, the Liberal government of Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King was returned for a new five-year term today with a record majority in the Canadian House of Commons.

As late returns from yesterday's general election came in during the day, Mackenzie King and his followers surpassed the record majority of 169 seats which they had held in the Parliament dissolved

Hockey Star Beaten at Polls

OTTAWA, March 27—Canadians may pay homage to their citizens or hockey players, but when it comes to politics, that's a different matter. Sylvanus A. Appa, center of the Toronto Maple Leafs hockey team, running as a Conservative in Brant, Ont., in yesterday's election, was defeated.

But the hockey star was philosophical. "I've still got my hockey," he said. "And when I'm through with that I'll turn to politics again. I feel sure I can be useful."

Also, the Canadian government stood to gain more than $31,000 from badly-defeated candidates. Each candidate had to post $200, which is forfeit if he failed to poll half as many votes as the winner. A late tabulation showed 157 such losses.

by the prime minister last Jan. 25 after opposition charges that Canada's war effort was weak and inefficient.

With only six seats in doubt and election for one deferred, the Liberals had won 176 seats out of a total of 245. The National Government group, including the Conservatives and constituting the chief opposition group, filled only 38 seats. The other 24 seats went to seven other scattered parties.

Mackenzie King and every member of his cabinet was returned to office, and Dr. Robert J. Manion, Conservative party leader and head of the opposition, was defeated.

Wins Fight For Her Son, Then Faints

A Roxbury mother fainted in Suffolk Probate Court today after her five-year-old son had been called into the judge's lobby as key witness in a custody battle.

The boy was finally awarded to the mother, Mrs. Irene Pendleton, with $14-a-week support for him and a 16-year-old daughter, Mildred.

Mrs. Pendleton came before Judge William M. Prest with a petition seeking return to her of the son, Henry, 5.

She said the father, Clarence Pendleton, took the boy from her home 19 days ago, after she had begun an action for separate support.

She charged her husband with desertion, cruelty and neglect to provide.

MOTHER COLLAPSES

He was in court today with a 13-year-old son, Edmund. His counsel, Atty. Martin Tobin, told Judge Prest, the boy, Henry, went with his father voluntarily and wished to stay with him.

Judge Prest then directed that the child be brought into court so that he might question him.

Friends from the start, little Henry and the judge went into the latter's chambers to talk the situation over, man to man.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Pendleton, overcome with emotion, collapsed in the courtroom.

Huge Appropriation Bill Signed by F.D.

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—President Roosevelt signed into law today a $1,032,801,995 appropriation bill for 1941 requirements of the Treasury and Postoffice departments. The total was $11,245,417 under his budget estimate.

Air Rifle Clue In Hunt for Boy

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 27 (INS)—Discovery of a high-compression air rifle in a 10-foot snow-drift spurred weary searchers today in their hunt for a missing 8-year-old boy whose younger brother blurted out a story that created fear of a possible slaying.

When last seen yesterday afternoon 8-year-old Kenneth Averill was dashing through deep snow while an older boy, carrying the high-powered rifle, chased him, the missing boy's 8-year-old brother told his parents and authorities.

POND VICTIM RECOVERING

Rescued from the ice-covered waters of Tucker's Pond, Hyde Park, in which she had struggled frantically for a half hour, little Barbara Ann Kinlin, three, was recovering today at her home.

The child, who lives in Dana ave., Hyde Park, was saved by firemen in the nick of time as she lost consciousness in 15 feet of water.

Barbara clung to an ice-covered log with a death like grip for fully thirty minutes while her mother tried desperately but futilely to save her.

Firemen, summoned by an unidentified neighbor, extended two ladders out onto the melting ice. Ladderman William H. Anderson and Gerald L. Cremin reached the child just as her strength gave out and her hand slipped from the log.

Barbara with her brother, Joseph, five, had been walking across the ice when the accident occurred about 150 feet from shore. Barbara screamed as she plunged through the ice, enabling her brother to scurry out of danger.

2 QUAKES RECORDED

NEW YORK, March 27 (INS)—Two severe earth shocks, estimated to have occurred about 4500 miles from New York, were recorded today at Fordham University.

Girl, 15, Shoots Herself Hunting Prowler

Frightened by a prowler, 15-year-old Dorothy Gunning, daughter of a Back Bay mounted policeman, seized her father's loaded revolver to protect herself, but accidentally discharged the gun and shot herself through her right hand, it was revealed today.

The girl was sitting in the living room in the Gunning home in Beach st., Hyde Park, at 11 o'clock last night, when her German shepherd dog, Von, suddenly began barking and she heard a noise at a window.

Nervous because both she and her sister had recently been annoyed by a prowler who had followed them on their way home from school, Dorothy jumped from her chair and caught a glimpse of a shadowy figure dodging from sight outside the window.

HEARD NOISE AT WINDOW

A few moments later, she believed she heard stealthy footsteps and a fumbling sound at another window.

Her father, Patrolman Franklin E. Gunning of the Back Bay station, was attending a Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting at Mahoney Post headquarters. Her mother was at a sewing circle party at a neighbor's home.

Trembling with fear, Dorothy ran to her father's bedroom and snatched his .38 caliber service revolver from its hiding place at the bottom of a bureau drawer.

Crouching behind a piano and holding the gun with both hands, the girl prepared to face the supposed intruder and try to "scare him" with the leveled weapon.

When the prowler failed to appear, Dorothy attempted to lower the cold-steel hammer of the gun.

WOUNDED IN HAND

In so doing, she accidentally pulled the trigger and the revolver was discharged, the bullet piercing her hand.

A brother, James, 13, heard the shot and came running to his sister's aid. Sobbing with pain, she kept her presence of mind and rang the front doorbell of the family upstairs.

Mrs. Leo Donahue came down, bandaged the wound and telephoned Dr. John J. Sacco of Washington st., Roslindale. After administering first aid, he sent the injured girl to City Hospital.

Dorothy Gunning is an honor pupil at Roslindale high school, where she is in her third year.

Gunning said today he had warned his children against handling his gun, but believed Dorothy's fear of the prowler justified her in seeking to defend herself.

SHOT—Dorothy Gunning, daughter of a Boston police officer, was nursing a wounded hand today as result of accident when she heard prowler in her Roslindale home. She grabbed dad's gun to drive him away and weapon discharged, bullet striking her hand.

Farley Tells Maine Deal Victory Certain

BANGOR, Me., March 27—Strangely mum about his own presidential candidacy—in contrast to his frank Massachusetts utterance—Postmaster-General James A. Farley today prophesied another Democratic national victory "if we stand united and work together."

Here to deliver the keynote speech at the state convention of Maine Democrats, with the issue of a Roosevelt third term and the fate of Maine's 10 votes in the convention hanging in the balance, Farley mentioned his chief's name only twice.

The nearest approach the postmaster-general made to what might be interpreted as a reference to the 1940 nomination fight came near the close of his address, when he said:

"We have experienced leaders to offer the country."

CALLS DEAL SINCERE

In general the Farley speech was disappointing to the listeners, who had hoped he might shed some light on the closely-guarded plans of the President, whom Farley piloted to victory in 1932 and 1936.

Farley said, in reviewing the New Deal's accomplishments:

"The Roosevelt administration has been sincere in purpose and honest in practice."

In discussing the likely trend of Republican campaign policy, the postmaster-general asserted:

"Having condemned the Roosevelt administration and all its works for seven long years, the (Republican) party has now discovered that it may be compelled to endorse the major administration policies."

RAPS G. O. P. LEADERS

"In the election next November the American people will have a choice between a party which has given new life and new force to the meaning of popular government, and one which has failed to make a single contribution toward solving the outstanding problems of the past 10 years."

In spite of "all the talk about making the G. O. P. liberal," Farley continued, each of the leading presidential contenders "has been identified with the reactionary wing of the party from the time of his entry into public life."

Nevertheless, he advised Maine Democrats, in summarizing points to the partisans who will send 10 votes to the national convention, that the Republicans would have "a well-disciplined, and above all, a well-supplied army."

SEES VICTORY

"I feel certain," he said, however, "that our party will be able to meet and repulse the attack. We have experienced leaders to offer the country and we have kept the faith during the past seven years of national rule."

Nowhere in his address was there any approach to the frank statement he made last week in Springfield, Mass., that he was in the presidential fight as a candidate to stay—come what may.

As the convention assembled today to select delegates to the national convention, there was a strong current of sentiment for President Roosevelt, if he wants a third term, and for Farley if his chief decides to retire.

From several state leaders came predictions that the state convention would be either:

1—Fledge its 10-vote delegation, possibly under the unit rule, to vote for the President first, his postmaster-general second.

GARNER'S AIDE FIGHTS

2—Instruct the delegates to do all they could for Farley for first place on the ticket or for the vice-presidential nomination, in case Roosevelt is not a candidate.

John E. Carleton, leader of the Garner forces, who sought an unpledged delegation that would be "open minded," was the chief defender from such proposals.

MOTHER HEROINE IN FIRE—Finding her husband had collapsed after he cut his hand in attempt to climb out window of smoke-filled room in their Cambridge home, Mrs. William Kriveis dragged him to safety. She then roused her daughter, Florence, 6 (above with her), and warned three boarders. Damage, however, was confined to one room.

'HEX' MOTHER IN SLAYING BY POISON OF 'NO GOOD' SON

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., March 27 (AP)—A mother was in jail today charged with forcing a caustic solution down the throat of her two-year-old son because, she testified, "He wouldn't be any good anyway when he grew up."

Chimney Work Periled by Wind

Forced to work inside the top of a 27-foot chimney by high winds and snow flurries, workmen continued today to tear down the top 20 feet of the structure.

The chimney, which serves the City Hospital power house, is located in the water yard of the public works division at 710 Albany st. Yesterday, one workman nearly lost his life when a wedge shaped portion of brick, weighing tons, fell from the chimney close to where he was working. Public works officials said that holes in the top of the chimney made repairs necessary. A new top will be built later.

Geyer Withdraws In California Muddle

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27 (AP)—Legal status of a proposed Democratic convention delegation pledged to a third term for President Roosevelt is in doubt because of the withdrawal of Rep. Geyer (D.) of California, third member to quit the compromise ticket.

Geyer reported his withdrawal in Washington, explaining he could not "see through the prevailing confusion" in the California Democratic political situation. His defection followed the withdrawal of former Sen. William Gibbs McAdoo.

FIRST LADY HINTS F. D. WILL NOT RUN

President Roosevelt will not run for a third term, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt indicated in her column, "My Day," which appears daily in the Boston Evening American.

At least, many political dopsters have so construed her words, casually delivered in the column which appeared in Tuesday's American.

Last year the President was kept from going to the San Francisco fair, but nothing should keep him from getting there this year," Mrs. Roosevelt wrote.

Observers interpret her remark as possibly subconsciously reflecting a decision which has been withheld publicly by the Roosevelt "inner circle."

Her statement was taken to mean the President's time will not be occupied with a campaign for re-election in 1940.

During the hearing she testified that male children are "no good" because they grow up and impose on girls.

She spoke little of the child except when she was prodded with questions. However, she said in her allusions to "hexing" that nine years ago she killed four persons just "by wishing them dead."

Under questioning she told the court she poured the laundering solution down the child's throat after she had called him to the cellar.

The woman's husband, Frank Orban, is regularly employed and the mother said she had plenty of food for the children.

"Was the child a cripple, was it crying or in ill health?" the prosecutor asked.

"No," was the curt answer.

Later, she softened her tone and after repeated questioning she said: "I guess I am sorry I did it. I hope he lives."

Springfield Woman Gets Gregory Post

Mrs. Ruth Weaver of Dwight st., Springfield, was today nominated by Gov. Saltonstall as a member of the State board of registration of hairdressers, to take the place of Mrs. Margaret F. Gregory of Chicopee, who was ousted recently by the Governor on the ground that she intentionally and deliberately furnished the State auditor false information.

Propaganda Probe Approved

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—A proposed investigation of foreign war propaganda in the United States won today the unanimous approval of the Senate foreign relations committee.

The inquiry would be authorized by a resolution by Senator Clark (D., Mo.), which would set up a special seven-member committee with an appropriation of $25,000.

The inquiry committee would be directed to look into the activities of "any person, firm or corporation acting for any foreign nation, by way of propaganda or otherwise, having as their ultimate goal or tending to cause, directly or indirectly, a change in the neutral position of the United States in the conflicts being waged abroad."

52 FLEE R. I. BLAZE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 27 (INS)—Fire in the basement of an adjacent department store today filled the Berkshire Hotel with smoke, forcing 52 guests to the street.

The position pays $2000 a year and the term expires next year.

Mrs. Weaver is a former president and financial secretary of the Springfield Hairdressers' Guild. She has been a hairdresser in that city for 16 years.

Other nominations sent to the executive council by the governor were:

Herbert H. Ward of Harwick, trial justice in place of the late John R. Healy; Burleigh E. Mansfield of Ipswich, associate medical examiner of Essex County, in place of John G. Corcoran whose term expired, and J. E. Canby of Great Barrington, medical examiner of Berkshire County, in place of John B. Beebe.

Nominations for reappointments were: Roscoe D. Perley of Melrose, medical examiner of Middlesex County; William D. Kinney of Barnstable, associate medical examiner of Barnstable County, and Lorenzo A. Remy of Chicopee, associate medical examiner of Hampden County.

THOUSANDS SEE HANGING

EAGHDAD, March 27 (AP)—Thousands today watched the hanging of a dismissed police inspector for the fatal shooting of Finance Minister Rustam Haidar. The body dangled on the gallows at a principal square for four hours.

LOVE SUIT — Mrs. Mollie Hoge's affections were stolen by Film and Radio Comedian Bob Burns, her estranged husband, Dr. Daniel W. Hoge, declared in Los Angeles today. With one $70,000 suit on file, Hoge says he will sue for divorce, naming Burns.

Sneak Thief's Haul Gloomy

There's a gloomy sneak thief wandering the old town today.

And she should be wearing a most funeral expression.

For his haul from an unlocked car in the Back Bay included:

One portable pulpit.

Several burial dresses.

One casket cover.

That's all the fibre bag he snatched contained. And the glassine bag holds nothing but papers belonging to a casket firm salesman.

A bar or two from "Bury me out on the Lone Star" should be his theme song.

M.D'S STUDY GIRL'S 'MYSTERY MALADY'

There'll be weeks and weeks of exacting preliminary examinations for little Mary Louise Sheffer, 11-year-old "mystery malady" girl from Australia, attendants at the Lahey Clinic announced today.

But no announcement of progress will be made until the final result of the clinical examination is determined, attendants said. Dr. Gilbert Horrox, heading a group of specialists who will care for blue-eyed little Mary Louise at the clinic yesterday made a three-hour study of the strange malady that sends her into a coma for no apparent reason.

Leaders in American medical circles are taking an interest in the case and are awaiting reports, it was said.

The examination was the objective of a 35,000-mile journey which brought the unconcerned little "sunshine girl" from her home in the land "down under" with her wealthy parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Sheffer.

Dr. Horrox gave Mary Louise a complete check-up, including X-ray and other tests, Sheffer disclosed. "We shall remain in Boston awaiting a report which will determine our future course."

NURSE FACES ACCUSATIONS FROM GRAVE IN WILL FIGHT

Accusations from "beyond the grave" may oppose Mrs. Marianne Heath Schultz Moore's legal fight to claim her late, estranged husband's $500,000 estate for a son he denied was his, counsel for the administrator of the estate intimated today.

The husband, Raymond H. Moore, wealthy founder and owner of the Cape Playhouse at Dennis, won a divorce in February, 1939, after a bitter court battle in which Mrs. Moore, a former nurse, vainly sought to prove herself an expectant mother.

Two months after the granting of the divorce, Mrs. Moore announced a baby son, Michael, had been born to her at Greenwich, Ct. Her claim was contested by her ex-husband, and it was revealed today he employed investigators to make at thorough probe of the alleged birth and of the paternity of the child.

Results of the checkup were kept secret at the time, but it now appears they may be made public in legal support of Moore's will.

This document ignored the baby "son" and placed the entire estate in the hands of three trustees "to be administered for the education and benefit of the public by the promotion and fostering of music, drama, horticulture and fine arts."

Mrs. Moore's counsel, Atty. George A. Cataldo of Boston, had previously filed a petition in Barnstable Probate court asking that Moore be ordered to pay $30 weekly as temporary alimony for the support of the baby, but it was denied by Judge Colen C. Campbell, who awarded Moore the divorce.

The Moore property, chiefly real estate, consists of the Cape Cod Playhouse, a renovated church where Bette Davis, an usher, Robert Montgomery and other film stars got their start; a movie theater, the Moore dwelling and eight or nine other buildings covering 30 acres.

Marianne Heath Schultz is 32 and Italian-born. She nursed Moore in a Hollywood hospital in 1938 and married him after a rapid-fire courtship. They had been married less than a year when the rift occurred. Moore, native of Baltimore, was 10 years older than his wife. His first wife, Edna Tweedy Moore, heiress to a $10,000,000 lumber fortune, died in 1936.

'Lurid' Sun Eclipse Visible on April 7

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP)—A partial eclipse of the sun will sweep from the West across the entire United States Sunday, April 7.

For nearly all of the country it will be a partial eclipse, but for a 150-mile-wide strip from Del Rio, Tex., to Jacksonville, Fla., the spectacle will be a rare annular—or ring—eclipse.

In the area of the annular eclipse there will seem to be a narrow ring of fire around the moon. This will be a thin rim of the sun, visible there because the moon will be so far from the earth its face will not completely hide the sun.

The moon will blot out 93 per cent of the sun's diameter, which means it will cover all but 14 per cent of the sun's area.

The shadow that passes over the earth will be real enough, but won't actually be the black cone of shadow that streams from the side of the moon opposite the sun. It will be the hour-glass extension of that black cone, known to astronomers as the negative shadow.

Under the ring-shaped central path the sun will give about twice the light of the full moon. The sight will last five to six minutes.

During that time smoked glasses may let the spectator look directly at vast tongues of flame shooting thousands of miles above the sun's edge. Screened cameras will be able to photograph the mile-high mountains on the edge of the moon. Two great astronomical feats will be undertaken in Texas. One in the Chisos mountains, 50 miles south of Alpine, Tex., will be to measure the strength of the infrared rays of the sun's edge. This strength is still unknown. Their measurement may some day be useful in long-range weather forecasting.

The other feat will bring into use a new instrument, the coronavisor, invented by Dr. A. M. Skellett of the Bell Telephone Laboratories. It uses the principle of television scanning to reveal what is ordinarily invisible in the glare around the edge of the sun.

Hotze in Contempt, His Wife Charges

He's in a jail cell now but his wife seeks a new court arraignment for Joseph Hotze of Newton to show cause why he should not be held in contempt for failing to pay her $5000 and $50 a week under an order made June 15, 1937 for the support of a child and herself.

Hotze is in East Cambridge jail on a charge of setting up and promoting a lottery.

May Lucky Month For Hub Brides

If figures mean anything, May is the "best" month for happy marriages in Suffolk County.

Statistics from Suffolk Probate Court for 1939 show that only 85 persons married in May filed divorce petitions, as compared with 191 petitions from persons wed in June, the "month of brides."

HOCKEY FUTURE—Mary Dees, beautiful blonde actress who doubled for Jean Harlow after her death, will wed Charlie Conacher, defense star of the New York Americans of the National Hockey League, when she returns from South American tour.

Governor to Be Guest At Jewish Dinner

Gov. Saltonstall, Gov. Francis P. Murphy of New Hampshire, Mayor Tobin and Chief Justice Fred T. Field of the State Supreme Court will head a long list of honor guests at the third annual dinner of the Massachusetts committee of the national conference of Christians and Jews tonight at the Chamber of Commerce building.

Speakers will include Charles Francis Adams, former Secretary of the Navy; Pres. James Phinney Baxter, 34, of Williams College; Rabbi Joshua Loth Liebmann of Temple Israel and Rev. Thomas R. Reynolds of St. Matthew's Church, Dorchester. Chief Justice John P. Higgins of the Supreme Court will preside.

Son, 70, Asks Wheel Chair For Mother, 108

OMAHA, Neb., March 27 (AP)—Seven-year-old William Cline of Omaha walked into the Goodwill Industries Shop and asked for a wheel chair.

"For yourself?" queried the attendant.

"No," replied Cline, "for my mother."

He explained that his mother, Mrs. Lucinda Cline of Wisner, Neb., who celebrated her 108th birthday last Valentine's Day, suffered a fractured hip in a fall.

Lays Marital Woes To 'Too Much' Cash

SALEM, March 27—Her married life was happy for nearly 15 years but when her husband started making money happiness ceased, Mrs. Jeanette Winer, of Eastern ave., Lynn, told Judge John V. Phelan in Probate Court today.

Mrs. Winer, seeking a divorce, charged her husband, Samuel, wealthy Haverhill shoe manufacturer, with cruel and abusive treatment. She asked custody of two children, Arthur, 20, and Sylvia, 16. Trouble came into their married life, Mrs. Winer testified, when her husband started making too much money and "thought he could do anything he pleased."

The middle-aged Lynn wife testified that on one occasion her husband had pushed her over a divan after wrestling a telephone out of her hand.

On another she said her husband told her she was not good enough to kiss the foot of his woman book-keeper following a business visit of the woman while her husband was ill at home.

In November, 1936, Mrs. Winer testified the telephone rang during a family dinner. She said she rushed to answer, but her husband grabbed the receiver out of her hand and pushed her over a divan.

Her husband's illness followed a reluctant visit by him to their children at camp, she said. He blamed his illness on that trip, she testified.

Judge Phelan took both the matter of divorce and custody under advisement.

275-Pound Teacher Called 'Fire Hazard'

NEW YORK, March 27 (INS)—On the contention that she is a "fire hazard," James Marshall, president of the board of education, was fighting today to oust a 275-pound married teacher who needs a cane to get about.

The woman can scarcely put on her own coat without help because she can't flex her wrist, he said.

"A person who cannot walk and put on her coat is a fire hazard," asserted Marshall. "In case of emergency, she is bound to slow up the exit of the rest of the school."

Marshall cited the case in support of his efforts to get permission for the board to order physically impaired teachers to submit to medical examinations and then discharge them if it so desires.

Dad, Son Face Court in Crash

Because a 17-year-old Auburndale boy was driving a car on his father's license when he lost control and snapped off an electric light pole, both were charged today in Newton court with operating dangerously.

Robert C. Lamb of Oakland ave., the driver, was fined $25 and given time to pay. The charge against his father, Arthur L. Lamb, 43, was placed on file.

Police testified the boy admitted he had tried to light a cigarette in Washington st., Newton, and lost control of the car.

Father and son were in the machine with a third person, but all escaped injury.

Mexico May Seize U. S. Chicla Land

MEXICO CITY, March 27 (AP)—Three United States-owned companies are threatened with the loss of 1,650,000 acres of valuable chicle-producing properties in the tropical state of Campeche because the government has declared their titles defective.

The companies, said to be the largest producers of the chewing gum base, are the Laguna Corp., the Mexican Gulf, Land and Lumber Co. and the Pennsylvania-Campeche Land and Lumber Co.

Newtonville School Looted by Thieves

Thieves stole a $225 movie projector, a portable screen, $250 in stamps and 25 cents in change during the night from the Carr School in Nevada st., Newtonville. It was discovered today.

All the articles were in the principal's office, and the thieves entered the building after breaking the glass in the rear door.

Mobs Raising Fund To Aid 'Murder, Inc.'

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP)—Dist. Atty. William O'Dwyer today pictured a concerted "rising of the gangs," in Manhattan as well as Brooklyn to combat his investigation of Murder, Inc., an underworld organization blamed for at least 35 killings.

"I have received information that the racketeers and mobsters of the lower East Side, in Manhattan, have already raised a sizable 'rush fund' to hire lawyers and finance bail bonds," the Kings County prosecutor said.

O'Dwyer, a former policeman, indicated his belief that the wealthy Manhattan racket outfits had determined to support their cross-the-river cronies in fear the investigation might spread, possibly disclosing an interlocking system of murder-for-sale tactics.

Meanwhile, the Daily Mirror says Abe (Kid Twist) Reles, 34-year-old alleged "vice-president" of Murder, Inc., added to previous voluminous information details of slaying of Max Hassell and Max Greenberg in the Elizabeth-Carter Hotel, in Elizabeth, N. J., on April 12, 1933.

The newspaper says Reles "explored" the fact that the job of doing the double slaying slipped through his fingers and went to a rival group whom he described as "the Broadway mob."

His cut-throat competitors, Reles said, killed the two men while their leader, Irving (Waxey Gordon) Wexler, entertained a chorus girl in another room.

The "Broadway Mob," according to Reles' account, intended to "rub out" Wexler, a big-time bookie and narcotics racketeer, but something went amiss.

In still another phase of the investigation, the gang execution of a home-loving business man—a "regrettable mistake" in the annals of Brooklyn's cash killing syndicate—was listed as solved by Bronx Dist. Atty. Samuel J. Foley.

The victim, who had the misfortune of looking like the killers' intended target, was Irving Penn, 42, music publisher.

Dies Witness Fails to Show

WASHINGTON, March 27 (INS)—Dies committee investigators today started checking the movements of George Powers, Communist secretary for western Pennsylvania, who faces a possible contempt citation for failing to answer a committee subpoena.

Powers, wanted for questioning as to what Communist used the alias "Franklin D. Roosevelt" as his party name, was subpoenaed in Pittsburgh yesterday. He was ordered to bring all his records before the committee at 10 a. m. today.

After waiting an hour for him to show up, investigators started checking. They said they discovered he boarded a Washington bound train last night. From that point they have been unable to trace him.

F. D. SCANS RELIEF NEEDS

WASHINGTON, March 27 (INS)—President Roosevelt today began to explore federal relief requirements for the fiscal year 1941 preliminary to making specific recommendations to Congress.

In his annual budget message last January, the President said most people felt relief expenditures should not fall below $1,300,000,000 and promised to give Congress a later and more specific estimate of needs.

WPA Administrator F. C. Harrington and Budget Director Harold Smith were called into a White House conference today as the President began to assemble his facts.

The presidential special message will deal specifically with WPA requirements, for which the House appropriations committee as yet has no estimates beyond the rough overall figure contained in the January budget measure.

Congress already has decided to allot the CCC $230,000,000 and the National Youth Administration $80,000,000 for the 1941 fiscal year. Farm Credit Administration will get approximately $123,000,000.

White House Sec. Stephen T. Early was unable to say when the relief estimate would go up, explaining that the President and his aides were just beginning to examine the situation.

Early said no appointment had yet been made for Under-secretary of State Sumner Wells, who is docking in New York tomorrow, according to White House information.

Early said there was no reason for Wells to rush immediately to Washington to report on his European findings. The President will receive Wells at the latter's convenience. Early said, and undoubtedly before the President goes to Warm Springs.

Aged Wife Slayer Gains His Freedom

MINNEAPOLIS, March 27 (AP) Frank Leschisin, 67-year-old elevator operator, looked gloomily at the jailer as he unbarred the cell, then heard him say:

"You can go now; you're free."

Even then, as he gathered up his few things with the aid of his son, John, he never uttered a word—just walked wearily into the night from the cell he entered a week ago after he shot and killed his wife, Mary, 57, in their apartment and voluntarily surrendered to police, saying:

"Yes, I shot her—I should have done it 15 years ago."

He was free because a county grand jury refused to indict him after hearing testimony from his son, his wife's sister, whom he called after the shooting, March 20 and instructed her to summon police, and several neighbors. A county prosecutor said they testified for him and that 30 others wanted to appear to urge his release.

Leschisin's only comment since his arrest had been that his wife nagged him constantly and they had quarreled most of their 35 years of married life.

Peter S. Nelson, assistant county attorney, said the state presented all its evidence and he thought the elements of murder was there but it would have been a difficult case to try in court and probably, we could not have obtained a conviction.

"His own boy was strongly for him. His wife's own sister testified for him. It really was the strangest case I ever saw. Every one was for him. At least 50 persons wanted to testify for him but of course that could not be allowed because they weren't witnesses to the slaying."

Buddy, the Boston singer who married the former Louise Dahl, ward of the late Ralph Hitz, chain hotel owner, has been added to a list of entertainers that includes leaders of stage attractions now playing Boston, as well as complete floor shows of Hub night clubs.

At the annual ball of the newspaper men, Gov. Saltonstall is scheduled to present the Edwin A. Ramsdell trophy for the best news photo of the past year to the veteran Jimmy Jones of the Boston Post, who caught a shot of the sunken submarine Squalus as she bobbed to the surface off Portsmouth in the salvage operations.

The stellar show, always a feature of the photographers' parties, is long but fast-moving, and half an hour of its run, from 11.30 p. m. to midnight, will go out on the silver Station WBZ.

Ethel Barrymore, starring in "International Incident" at the Wilbur Theatre, will be there with three members of the cast who, incidentally, play news photographs.

12 FRENCH, RUSSIAN BREAK NOW SEEN

ser war cabinet held its second meeting this morning, but whether the Russian and Balkan situations were discussed remained for the time being a state secret.

Surtis is expected to leave Paris for Moscow within a few days. His recall means that neither nation will have an ambassador in the other's capital. The French embassy in Moscow is headed by Paul Emile Naggar, who then on "leave" for some weeks.

The French demand that Russia recall Surtis was only part of a "warning" to Russia from the new "war" government under Paul Reynaud that it intends to take a "stiff" diplomatic course in the conflict with Germany. Russia now found friend.

The French, who have been engaged in an intensive battle with underground Communist organizations, also are said to be distrustful by a reported increase in Russian espionage.

It was noted significantly that France's ally, Great Britain, has refrained from an open break with the U. S. S. R. although the British ambassador to Moscow, Sir William Stirling, has been on leave for several months.

The next strain on Paris-Moscow relations may come when—and if—the Soviet Union nominates a successor to Surtis, the recalled envoy. In informed quarters it was considered unlikely that the new French government of Premier Paul Reynaud, pledged to make war on Germany "in every field," would approve any replacement for Surtis.

Some observers felt that the recall of Surtis foreshadowed a complete rupture in French-Russian diplomatic relations.

CHARGE INSULT
A French official spokesman charged that Surtis had "insulted the Allies" in the telegram to Stalin.

"This telegram was sent in French by the ordinary transmission route and was considered an insult to the Allies and also Communist propaganda," the spokesman said of a fighting speech last night steered away from relations with Russia but declared that his government's "duty" was "to make war and make it in every field."

He asserted that Reichsfuehrer Hitler had "put everything into motion" to "destroy the economic life of the Balkan states. He added that France's interests in Western Europe are equal to those in Eastern Europe.

To permit Germany to gain her ends in the conflict, he added "would mean the end of liberty and the end of France."

"Also:
"The Soviet Union remains an impregnable fortress against which the sinister schemes of the enemies of socialism and of the working people of the whole world will crash..."

"Also the words:
"Sinister schemes, enemies of socialism..."

Russia Admits France Asked Envoy's Recall

MOSCOW, March 27 (AP)—Soviet Russia announced today that her ambassador to Paris is being recalled at the request of the French government.

The French request, according to the announcement published by Tass, official Russian news agency, was based on an attempt by Jakob Surtis, the envoy, to telegraph congratulations to Joseph Stalin on the conclusion of the war with Poland as a success against "British-French warmongers."

The Tass communique on withdrawal of Surtis gave excerpts from the Surtis telegram as follows:

"Thanks to the wisdom of the Soviet government and to our valiant Red army, the plans of the British-French warmongers who attempted to fan the flames of war in northeastern Europe again failed..."

Britain Officially Has Hands-Off Attitude

LONDON, March 27 (INS)—Great Britain adopted a "hands-off" attitude today toward the diplomatic controversy between its French ally and Soviet Russia over Jakob Surtis, Russian ambassador recalled from Paris to Moscow at request of the French government.

Authoritative British quarters stated that the Surtis affair is purely a French matter and is of no interest to Britain.

WOODRING DEFENDS SALES

Johnson and Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, endorsed the foreign policy.

ARNOLD TO TESTIFY
As the first hearing on sales of planes to the Allies was ended, Chairman May (D.) of Kentucky, chief of the Senate Committee on Commerce, said that he would call for a "tempest in a teapot."

He said that Gen. Marshall and Maj. Gen. Arnold, chief of the Army Air Corps, would be called to a secret session later to discuss the foreign sales policy.

Appearing in response to fears expressed in Congress that the American defense expansion program would be hampered, Woodring insisted that sales of airplanes for warring nations would promote our own national defense.

SEKS SECRETS SAFE
"No military secret will be divulged or released to any foreign purchaser of military airplanes," he said.

"Neither designs owned by the War Department nor manufacturers' owned designs over which the War Department has control will be released for manufacture or detail assembly abroad."

"Foreign governments must agree to furnish us full and complete information on the design, equipment and combat performance of American-made planes."

Explaining that, with Allies reportedly ready to buy $1,000,000,000 worth of planes, the War Department is delaying orders for its planes, Woodring said:

"It appears not only a safe policy, but a highly desirable policy for the government to accept later delivery dates for certain planes in order to secure the advantage of 'change orders' which will give our air corps improved equipment."

Woodring further asserted: "Development of plane types is today so rapid that the acceptance of certain models now being possible of our air corps receiving in quantity types which would soon be surpassed in performance by later models."

He denied foreign orders had either delayed War Department purchases it wished to make or increased the cost.

Congress, Woodring revealed, may be asked to permit extension of the program under which it was planned to expand the air corps to 550 planes by June 30, 1941. This would be done, he indicated, by making appropriations available over a longer period.

Nazi Prison Ship Altmark Safe Home

COPENHAGEN, March 27 (AP)—The German prison ship Altmark was believed safely in German waters today after having slipped down the coast of Norway and through Danish waters in spite of the British blockade.

The Altmark, from which the British destroyer Cockscarf rescued 29 British merchant seamen Feb. 17 in Joesfjord, Norway, was reportedly to have reached Langeland island Sunday.

Hint France to Seek New Deal With Italy

By KENNETH T. DOWNS

International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, March 27 (INS)—Rapprochement with Rome!

Farewell to Jakob Surtis!

These are the chief topics of discussion in Paris today, in order of their importance, in the wake of announcement from Moscow that Surtis, Soviet ambassador to France, had been recalled at the request of the French government.

The sensation caused by publication of Surtis' telegram to Josef Stalin congratulating him on the fall of Finland and characterizing Britain and France as war-mongers was far overshadowed by indications that France may soon launch a determined move to mend Franco-Italian relations.

SEEK TO MEND BREACH
There has been bad blood between Paris and Rome ever since Premier Mussolini invaded Abyssinia. It appears that France has now decided to overcome these difficulties.

I am sorry that I cannot describe these indications in detail for although they appear in the French press the censor, whose inscrutable ways have been getting more inscrutable of late, will not pass them for transmission to the United States.

But if the projected move that the French press will not let me report works out, it will be an event of capital importance in Allied relations with Italy.

ITALY WITH ALLEIES?

(Editor's Note—Despite the military alliance between Germany and Italy and the recently reaffirmed solidarity of the Rome-Berlin axis, many European observers have never discounted the possibility of Italian collaboration with the allies, in the form of at least de facto neutrality if not outright armed co-operation.

(Many experts believe that the only hope of a successful allied military onslaught against Germany lies through Italy. In any case, Italian co-operation with France would go a long way toward offsetting German diplomatic and military advantages in southern Europe and the Balkans.)

In Paris, observers now believe that a major war movement is impossible except in the Balkans, but action there would be difficult to envisage until Italy's position is clarified.

NAZIS HOPE FOR PEACE

The French view is that Germany, despite outward indications to the contrary, is unlikely to undertake any moves there at the present, being too busy "digesting what she has and hoping for peace to disturb the situation anywhere."

In connection with the sensational possibility of a Franco-Italian deal, observers recalled the word of Premier Paul Reynaud in his first nationwide broadcast yesterday when he said that France's determination and duty was to "wage war in all domains."

Border Parley Rejected by Stalin

LONDON, March 27 (INS)—Soviet Dictator Josef Stalin definitely has rejected suggestions by German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop for a meeting with Chancellor Hitler at the Russo-German frontier, the Daily Telegraph reported from Copenhagen.

The Soviets' reply, however, indicated that Stalin would be "delighted" to welcome Hitler to Moscow the paper added.

U Boat Gets Vessel at British Base

BERGEN, Norway, March 27 (AP)—Shippers here were advised today that the 370-ton freighter Comets, whose home port is Bergen, was torpedoed and sunk yesterday while in the British contraband control base at Kirkwall in the Orkney Islands off northern Scotland.

The entire crew of 37 was saved. The Comets was en route from Bergen to Buenos Aires.

The newspaper Bergen Aftenblad bitterly criticized the British for taking the ship into the contraband base after the British consul at Bergen was said to have given her "official clearance."

Allies May Send 'Naval Police' to Norway

PARIS, March 27 (INS)—Britain and France may dispatch an Allied naval "police force" into Norwegian territorial waters if Norway finds herself unable to halt the continuous German naval and merchant ship movements near neutral shores, it was reported today.

Unofficial word of this possible development circulated in Paris following a one-hour French war cabinet meeting at which the Allies reportedly decided to take a firmer stand on German shipping in Norwegian waters.

LONDON, March 27 (AP)—Sixteen survivors of the 5742-ton British tanker Daghestan, sunk from an undisclosed cause in the North sea Sunday, were landed at a northeast Scottish port today. The captain and three of the crew were drowned.

Thirty-six survivors from the 6922-ton British steamer Rossington Court, rammed and sunk by an unidentified tanker in mid-Atlantic March 13, were landed in Britain today by a motorship which had rescued them from a single lifeboat.

The sinking had not previously been made public.

The 6574-ton British steamer Castle Moor today was reported overdue and was feared lost with all hands. She carried a crew of about 40. Her home port was London.

A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from Amsterdam today said the Netherlands coastguard vessel Saba, 490 tons, was a week overdue and was feared lost with her crew of seven.

British Down 2 Nazi Planes

LONDON, March 27 (AP)—The Air Ministry announced today that two German aircraft had been shot down in flames yesterday in a fight with the British near Metz, France, on the Western Front.

The official British account said that one British fighter plane was shot down, but that the flier escaped by parachute.

It described aerial activity in the neighborhood of Metz as showing "marked increase."

The British version said that a formation of seven German reconnaissance planes, escorted by fighters was intercepted by a Royal Air Force unit.

"Several combats took place and our fighters, having broken up the enemy formation, forced the enemy to abandon his reconnaissance."

"One of the patrols encountered a formation of nine enemy fighters. In the ensuing fight two enemy aircraft were seen to go down in flames."

Nazi Prison Ship Altmork at Kiel

BERLIN, March 27 (AP)—The German naval auxiliary vessel Altmork arrived at Kiel, Germany, late this afternoon after a long and adventurous war cruise abroad.

The Altmork, raided by the British destroyer Cosack in Norwegian territorial waters on Feb. 17, when 299 British merchant seamen prisoners were rescued, reached German waters safely by slipping through the British blockade. She steamed down the Norwegian coast and through Danish waters.

British Claim Mutiny On Spee Before Battle

LONDON, March 27 (AP)—The British admiralty, dealing anew with the three-month-old incident of the German pocket battleship Almirante Graf Spee, announced in a press release that it had learned from witnesses aboard British merchantmen in the harbor of Montevideo at the time that the warship's crew refused to take to Graf Spee to battle at any after eight appeals from her officers.

In Montevideo and Buenos Aires most officials who saw the four day sea drama were inclined to discount this premise.

The Graf Spee put into Montevideo on Dec. 13 after a running battle with three British cruisers.

Uruguayan authorities permitted her to land 35 crewmen killed and 60 wounded in the battle and stay in harbor 72 hours for repairs while British men-of-war gathered off the South American coast to block an expected dash by the Graf Spee for the open sea.

On December 17, however, the Graf Spee was blown up near the entrance to Montevideo harbor by order, according to an official German announcement at Chancery Hill.

"During the afternoon of Saturday, December 16," said the statement released by the British admiralty, "a factor arose which the German command had not taken into account. The crew of the Graf Spee refused to take their ship to sea between 3 p. m. and 2.30 p. m. the crew of the Graf Spee were mustered on deck at least eight times and harangued by one officer after another."

Police Lose Hasty Pudding 'Strip Tiff'

Cambridge police today had to admit they emerged only "second best" in a battle of wits with Harvard's famous Hasty Pudding Club players and the show goes on—after only an hour's forced delay on opening night.

Either through a gag by the show's publicity man or over-zealousness on the part of certain Cambridge citizens, when the premiere curtain was already to go up reached the long arm of the law and forced a capacity society audience to chew their nails while student managers of the show bargained wildly with city officials over the telephone.

Cause of it all was the news that at a performance staged solely for alumni on Monday night glamorous Myrna Dean, burlesque beauty, displayed the art of strip-teasing.

The strip-teaser, rumor had it, would continue with her lead in the show, violating the tradition that all parts in the annual theatrical be played by members of the exclusive Hasty Pudding Institute of 1876.

Heeding the report, and also a complaint that ruse songs and scenes enlivened the performance, Police Chief Timothy Leamy assigned Sgt. William Nixon and Policewoman Edith Taylor as a board of censorship last night.

On arriving at the Holyoke at clubhouse where most of Boston's elite had already gathered, the police learned that the boys had neglected to get the $1 license required of all public presentations for which admission is charged.

Despite protests that the Hasty Pudding hadn't had a license for 90 years, Sgt. Nixon remained adamant.

The boys scurried hither and thither and finally routed Mayor Johnny W. Lyons from a banquet at the Hotel Continental. The mayor, after conferring with police, decided the show might go on. However, the boys will be required to obtain a license for tonight's performance.

Miss Dean disclosed last night that her part in the show was only a one-night stand. She maintained she had participated on a dare. "I showed them a little bit here and a little bit there and they seemed to enjoy it," she said. "This Harvard boy I've known for some time asked me to see the show from back-stage. When I started to kid him about the way some of the 'girls' in the cast 'gave out' he dared me to do better. I accepted the challenge and went on."

'PRO' MODELS PICKET 'CHSELING' DEBBIES

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP)—Beauty daintily struggled with the beauties today as eight of the town's prettiest models picketed an East Side restaurant where some of the town's loveliest debbs were modeling at a fashion show.

The debbies, crowding to the doorway of the bistro, said it wasn't cricket to picket, but the lovelies on the line just marched on with these signs:

"Beauty is our claim: to fame—society is just a name."

"It's not fair—we're fairer."

"Don't nagge beautiful! society girls" (complete with tantalizing question marks).

It was a dignified picket line until one lovely little laborer on the line learned that one of his debbs had modeled for her lunch.

Then there was some stamping of dainty feet, some wagging of tongues, and some distortion of pretty faces—and nose thumbing.

"Imagine," she murmured, "imagine modeling for her lunch."

As the male pedestrian traffic began congesting the sidewalk, blonde Helen Johnson took advantage of audience response to say the demonstration was the first tangible protest professional models had made against the inroads of society girls in modeling.

"It's been going on for some time and lately it's been worse," she said. "Did you ever hear of the straw that broke the camel's back?"

Helena Rubinstein, who staged the fashion show, suggested that perhaps society models should confine their work to charity affairs. Waister Thornton, professional model agent, said something had to be done—this modeling by society girls was "unfair competition."

ALL-DEATH BOMB WINS ALL TESTS

BALTIMORE, March 27 (AP)—Lester Ballow's liquid oxygen-carbon explosive, so powerful an eight-ounce charge sent a 40-foot telephone pole flying skyward without a public trial of shock and fire today and the inventor announced he was ready for governmental tests.

He said he would send his proposals for official trials to the Senate military affairs committee tomorrow, and predicted the first would be held within three weeks. They were ordered after a meeting last week of congressional war and naval committees.

Before Ballow's 70 newsmen and photographers, Ballow conducted a series of tests to prove the stability of this explosive he claims is the deadliest ever devised by man—a crushing force that can wipe out all life within a 1000-foot radius.

BRIDGEPORT, Ct., March 27 (AP)—Dr. Sydney Luria almost got what he asked for—a punch in the nose from 3-year-old William Blinn.

The boy, whose injured finger was treated a year ago by the physician, came to a hospital looking for Dr. Luria.

"He told me while he was fixing my hand," William explained to a nurse, "that it might hurt just a little then but pretty soon it would be as good as new and I could come back and punch him on the nose."

Dr. Luria was absent when William called.

Dever Seeks Cash For Charities Probe

Following his announcement that more than $8,000,000 in public charitable bequests has been improperly or inadequately administered, Atty-Gen. Paul A. Dever said today he will seek additional WPA funds in order to continue his investigation.

Liberals Win In Canada

ed by a Liberal, Don McIvor, in his home city of Fort William, Ont.

A number of Dr. Manion's opposition aides also lost their Parliamentary seats.

When MacKenzie King dissolved Parliament last Jan. 25 and called the election in reply to criticism of his conduct of Canada's part in the war against Germany, the Liberals held 169 seats and the Conservatives 38.

The new victory, comparable to that in the last election Oct. 14, 1935, retains the Liberal government for another five years, unless it chooses to appeal to the public sooner. The Senate is not affected, its members being summoned for life by the governor general.

Absentee ballots of some 50,000 members of the armed forces will not be added until April 1, or later, but are expected to have little effect on the civilian total of about 5,000,000 votes.

WIN IN PROVINCES
The Liberals won all four races in Prince Edward Island; 11 of 12 in Nova Scotia; 13 of 17 in Manitoba, with two in doubt.

New Brunswick's 10 places were divided evenly between Liberals and followers of Dr. Manion.

Funds for the project which resulted in his demand for payments and accountings after study of more than 350,000 wills were exhausted in 11 months, Dever said.

More than 100 legal actions have already been launched by the attorney general's office in order to secure distribution of funds from wills in fulfillment of the original wishes of donors.

The attorney general hit out at 2000 trustees who failed to reply to his inquiries, made in investigating 350,000 wills probated in the State since Colonial days. Besides his staff, 53 WPA workers assisted in the probe, Dever said.

"These funds were originally donated by public spirited citizens for relief of the poor, construction of hospitals, libraries, recreational centers and for educational and religious purposes," Dever said.

"It is safe to assume that a reluctance to disclose facts showing a violation of the trust was the reason for failing to report in many of these cases," he commented.

He also said the belief appeared current among many trustees, especially of organized and incorporated charities, that no public official has the right to inquire how they are performing their duties.

MANY EVADE LAW
In other cases he found that trustees were failing to comply with the law requiring them to file annual accounts in the probate court.

"This evasion of the plain words of the statute, which do not admit of any interpretation making the provisions inapplicable to charitable corporations, was corrected in cases involving hundreds of thousands of dollars," he stated.

Dever 'Candidacy' Blasted by Kelly

Reports that Atty-Gen. Dever may run for governor were branded today by former Lieut.-Gov. Francis E. Kelly as the work of "some professional politicians and a group of wealthy interests."

Kelly, who announced his own candidacy for governor in January, took occasion of his 37th birthday to air his views on the prospects of Dever being in the field.

"I am reliably informed that some professional politicians and a group of wealthy interests are striving to persuade a greatly over rated holder of a minor constitutional office, Atty-Gen. Dever, to announce his candidacy for governor," Kelly said.

"Mr. Dever has never engaged in a real Democratic primary contest in his political career," Kelly added.

He recalled his own contest of 1938 against former Governors James M. Curley and Charles F. Hurley, whom he described as two powerful vote getters who were candidates for a second term.

"The 1938 public records show what a remarkable vote Francis E. Kelly received in that contest for governor against real opposition," he said in that connection.

Kelly also recalled his victory of 1936 over the present Gov. Saltonstall when the two were vying for the lieutenant governor's post.

Kelly received an 80-lb. birthday cake from western Massachusetts, a section that he carried in the 1938 primary. Telegrams, letters and other birthday greetings were received from many of them from Fall River, where he is a finance commissioner.

WAGE-LAW EXPENSE SLASHED

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—The House stood squarely behind its appropriations committee today and insisted on slashing President Roosevelt's recommendations for wage-hour law administrative expenses.

It defeated, on a teller vote of 115 to 148 an attempt by Rep. Casey (D.) of Massachusetts to restore a $1,035,000 cut in budget estimates for wage-hour salaries that would have raised the total to $5,965,000.

Col. Phillip Fleming, wage-hour administrator, was represented as believing that if Congress failed to provide adequate funds for enforcement of the law it should be repealed.

Casey quoted Fleming as saying that "if the law isn't effectively and efficiently enforced, it ought to go off the books."

Casey said that while government departments usually could adjust their operations to fit their pockets, the situation was different with the wage-hour administration.

"This is a vote for the wage-hour law or against it," he asserted.

Germs Killed By Silver Atoms

LOS ANGELES, March 27 (AP)—Ability of scientists to kill germs through the harnessing of solid silver atoms was revealed today at California Institute of Technology. Research by physicists and bacteriologists indicated that swimming pools in the future will be sterilized with small amounts of silver instead of with chlorine.

Further application of the revolutionary form of germ killing may provide a substitute, they said, for pasteurization of milk.

Unlike heat and chemicals, introduction of minute amounts of silver was reported not to alter the taste of fluids.

THE ROBINS have flown South and the robins have flown North (well, one robin, anyway) since John F. Dowd resigned his public trust as the high sheriff of Suffolk County and became a fugitive from indictments naming him as a job-selling thief.

Whether musing a dog sled through the Arctic wastes, trolling off Trinidad or gambling in Bolivia, Dowd shows no disposition to return and face the music. Guilty or innocent, he is reported in mortal fear of State Prison.

JOHN F. DOWD
Where Is He?

They are at least as vigilantly prepared to deal with the case of Dowd, and it is to be hoped good police work will provide them with the opportunity.

THE INVITATION to Bertrand Russell, English philosopher, author and mathematician, to lecture at Harvard is defended on grounds of "academic freedom."

Commenting on the appointment of Russell to the faculty of the tax-supported City College of New York, the Catholic News, official organ of the great metropolitan archdiocese, observed:

"Academic freedom does not protect a man who insists that the earth is flat; it does not protect a man who says those things which all normal people at all times, not to mention the Divine law, call immoralities are not immoral."

Also rebuking the Russell selection, American Legionnaires of New York County have resolved that the Britisher's views are "contrary to the principles of the Constitution" and have pledged themselves to "terminate" the board of high education or those responsible for his employment.

Of course Harvard is not supported with money supplied by taxpayers. But Harvard receives many favors from taxpayers, including the important matter of liberal tax exemptions.

There are many Legionnaires and many religious persons in this Commonwealth.

MOTION PICTURE STARS, not motion picture authors, are the chief drawing cards for theater-goers, rules the Supreme Court in Washington.

Back in the "Golden Age of Literature" such a decision would have created a sensation akin to an explosion of dynamite in a glass house.

Thousands who could neither read nor write went to HEAR Shakespeare's plays rather than to SEE those who appeared in them.

No one, not even the pompous Dr. Johnson, would have dared to say the tongue was mightier than the pen.

On the Side

A MAN I KNOW, just an ordinary citizen with no political ambitions, started single-handed a campaign that drove a pack of crooks from the government of a great city. We can't all do that much but we "can do something." I think I'll get my Congressman on the wire and squawk to him about hidden taxes, super-snooper census takers and lending money to nations that don't pay their debts.

WOMEN are writing style suggestions for men. Some nerve! "An Easy-Going Man" says one of these presumptuous females "is a tweed type" I have an elegant tweed coat, but I'm not so easy going; especially not when somebody sells me a dry cigar. Anyway, the lady further states: "The tweed type of man can wear with distinction a burgundy cummerbund." Before we know it, gentlemen, these women will be writing up what men were where. Imagine reading: "Ed Darling, owner of the 2-year-old Always Trying, arrived at the track early. He was dramatically attired in a burgundy cummerbund." By the way, what is a burgundy cummerbund?

SEVERAL YEARS ago a Hollywood film studio had 42 men on its private police force. These men worked 40 hours a week. Working time was increased to 48 hours a week. By doing this the studio was able to get along with 32 men instead of 42. This gives an idea as to what the difference in working hours means as to number of men employed.

"DID YOU KNOW Alfred P. Hall of Minnesota started the California canned tuna industry in 1907?" asks a client. No, sir. I didn't even suspect it. If somebody had only written in and told me who was the first man to put toothpicks in olives and who originated idea of putting parsley on fish I could have headed this "I Am Surprised to Learn" and said quite an interesting little paragraph.

MATRIMONIAL "expert" says men who are poor dancers of who can't dance at all make the most successful husbands. How is your husband on the dance floor, lady? . . . That word nostalgic should be given a long rest or retired on a pension. Never was much of a word anyhow . . . Miss J. V. Cousins invested $100 in the Ford Company and took out $355,000! I wish I had $355,000. If I did, when the managing editor called up and asked icily: "When are we going to get that column?" I would say "In due time, my good man, in due time."

IT WAS STATED in Congress that for every $47 taken in, radio stations pay out one cent for music. Yet 70 per cent or more of the entertainment on radio is music. With the importance music is now playing in the entertainment there shouldn't be one capable musician in the country out of a job . . . A beauty expert says swimming, tennis and bicycle riding ruin a woman's figure. How about all those cuties who were in Billy Rose's Aquacade at the New York World's Fair? What's the matter with Eleanor Holm's figure? As for tennis, what's wrong with Alice Marble's figure. I don't know any bicycle riders.

WASHINGTON, March 27—I understand that Sunday was the coldest Easter since 1890. In corroboration I can testify that Miss Thompson and I found the Sunrise Service at the Unknown Soldier's Tomb a triumph of the spiritual over the physical. The seats were all taken in spite of the weather, which congealed both hands and feet.

I saw Governor Price of Virginia opening and closing his hands as though they were getting numb and I was glad that none of the young people staying in the house had decided to get up to accompany me. Instead, I took them to the 11 o'clock service at St. Thomas' Church.

MONDAY was very cold and there was no rain, so I think the crowd on the lawn did very little damage to the grass during the most Easter egg rolling. As a matter of fact, we went down at 9:30 a. m. I spoke over the radio and a few words for the newsmen I walked around the grounds and spoke to the members of the George Washington School Band of Alexandria, and to some members of the Metropolitan Police who were to play later. At 2 o'clock, the small children, who usually come Easter Monday afternoon for a party, arrived. They had their movies and ice cream and cake and a look out on the lawn, and left before our official visitors from Costa Rica arrived.

DRAMATIC SCENE IN MOTION PICTURE, "REBECCA"

Band and the United States Marine Band played for the entertainment of our guests.

I went for a ride at 11 o'clock and a little after 2 I went out on the grounds again to see how many more children had braved the cold. At 2:30 the Rochester University Glee Club sang two numbers on the porch and then a few numbers in the East Room. At 3 o'clock, the small children, who usually come Easter Monday afternoon for a party, arrived. They had their movies and ice cream and cake and a look out on the lawn, and left before our official visitors from Costa Rica arrived.

I MUST TELL you that the movie "Rebecca," made from Daphne du Maurier's book, is excellent. It holds your interest all the time and Judith Anderson does a wonderful piece of character acting as Mrs. Danvers. The two principals are charming and convincing.

They were wise to end the picture so that you can imagine the future will be happier and that Rebecca's evil influence will finally pass away. Evil influences have a dreadful way, however, of sticking around and one disagreeable person in a family can shadow the present and the future for a long time.

NEW YORK, March 27—"You can say this with all definiteness," a ringsider assures at Fefe's Monte Carlo. "The one man who knew, in advance, what Jimmy Cronwell was going to say in his Toronto speech was Mayor Frank Hague, the Democratic boss of New Jersey. Hague knew it, and knew it would be a good send off for Cronwell's Senatorial campaign." "Gypsy Rose Lee will work at the Fair Grounds this year," a producer informs at the Cotton Club. "She'll be in 'The Streets of Paris,' at the Hall of Music, with Abbott and Costello." . . . Harold Dahl, sitting with his wife, Edith Dahl, reminisces about his experiences in Spain at Leon and Eddie. "I'm leaving for Sarasota," he confides. "I'm going to fly in the Sarasota Marathon for lightweight planes."

"THE WIRE-TAPPING investigation which the Senate is conducting," a Washington official reports at the Martinique, "will encompass the office of District Attorney Dewey." "My present tour will be over in June, 1941," Tallulah Bankhead tells William Saroyan at Sardi's. "Do you think you can write a play for me by that time?" . . . "I can write hundreds of plays by that time," Saroyan replies. "My last one took me six days." . . . "Sinclair Lewis," an agent states at the Havana-Madrid, "is re-writing his 'Queenie' play, Francine Larrimore will appear in it" . . . At Moore's, George Jessel and the 16-year-old Lois Andrew celebrate their engagement. "Attention, please," Jessel announces, "which one of you guys stole my girl's jacks?" . . . "We've decided to wait a month before marrying," George confesses. "Who knows? Tomorrow she may wake up and decide: 'What I want is a tricycle.'"

"UNION difficulties at the Ballet Russe are being settled this week-end," a union official relates at the Beachcombers. "Lawrence Tibbett and his colleagues negotiated for the Ballet Russe corps to become members of AGMA, and the contracts are being signed." . . . "Dave Selznick is riding high now that 'Rebecca' is a hit, and 'Gone With the Wind' is making so much money," a Hollywood visitor states at Tony's. "Selznick needs two cars now—especially for his ego." . . . "Well, this time it really happened," an eye-witness declares. "Bob Lawrence, the music critic, had a birthday party last week. Martiniello came and sang—as a birthday gift. A neighbor, in pajamas, knocked on the door and complained about that singing."

"The nation's first all-year outdoor rink will open at the Philadelphia ball park on the same day the Republican Convention meets in that city," a member of the staff informs at Bill's Gay 90's.

FRANCINE LARRIMORE

TIP: THE GRENADIERS OF THE PRESS will play host to friends and admirers at the Hotel Copley Plaza tonight . . . In the sometime dangerous business of getting the news, these grenadiers—the cameramen—play tag with trouble in the very front line of the newsfront . . . Known as "shuttermen," or "lenshounds," the Boston newspaper photographers will be at play tonight . . . Most of their mates in other departments of the "newspaper game" will share the fun . . . There is an excellent show scheduled (as always), the hilarity will be high and the mood of the shindig congenial.

BUT THE REAL TIP is this . . . The Annual Boston Press Photographers' Ball is not a "private party" . . . The public is invited, and, at this writing, a few whole tables and a few score accommodations for parties of one, two, four, three, five, seven, and six, eight, nine and ten are available . . . The usual "last minute rush" will people these spaces quickly enough . . . The party is an assured sell-out, and if you're planning to attend—our tip is to make your reservation at once . . . Second tip: . . . It might be a good idea to snare an autograph of President Bill Jones, (who "takes" pictures for this newspaper) . . . Somebody will probably write his biography someday.

EXCLUSIVE: If Jim Farley's men have worked with their customary speed and dispatch, the New Jersey Racing Commission at this very minute is studying an application for a permit to erect a race track and to operate a race-meeting thereon . . . The application is that of the Atlantic County Agricultural and Breeding Association, which, had we no further clues to the story, would be of too little moment to start off a column devoted, in the main, to local doings . . . But here's a clue . . . The application was mailed yesterday from the central post office of Providence, R. I.

MORE SPECIFIC THAN THAT and making the actions of the Atlantic County Agricultural and Breeding Association most pertinent to this locality is the news that, stripped of its floss and dressing, the A. C. A. and B. A. is, for the most part, none other than Walter E. O'Hara . . . Mr. O'Hara will be remembered as the mercenary son of Massachusetts who parlayed a political disagreement into a declaration of martial law . . . Although he was routed finally from a cozy little penthouse atop Narragansett Park—this was in the late summer of 1937—Mr. O'Hara had made himself nationally known by whipping a Governor of Rhode Island into such a state of white-heat that the Governor called out the militia . . . It was the militia that dislodged Mr. O'Hara.

RUMORS HAVE LINKED the erstwhile stormy petrel of New England racing to the Jersey racing scene . . . Here are the facts . . . Officially confirmed by Mr. O'H. himself . . . "Yes, an application is in the mail and I have every reason to believe that dates will be granted," the onetime boss of Gansett declared. "There will positively be racing in New Jersey this summer, THAT I know." . . . The New York papers in early stories predicting the entry of Mr. O'Hara into the Jersey picture said that the location of the O'Hara plant would

LLOYD HOPES FOR A MIRACLE

By Louella O. Parsons

Frank Lloyd

HOLLYWOOD, March 27—Frank Lloyd, who is bitterly disappointed that Joan Fontaine probably won't be able to play his heroine in "The Tree of Liberty" said today he is hoping by some miracle that she may be well enough. I asked him about Martha Scott, who was supposed to have tested at Columbia just in case Joan isn't able to play the part. He says he refuses to even believe Joan won't be well, although Martha Scott might be tested if Joan's doctor really votes against her making the picture. Frank has signed Richard Carlson to play the young Tom Jefferson—not the political-minded Jefferson but the young man who is romantically pictured. Alan Marshall, another attractive young leading man, plays Richard's close friend.

ANN SHERIDAN

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD: Richard Greene was in a huddle with one of the town's leading jewelers at the Brown Derby. Does that mean that wedding bells are drawing near for him and Virginia? Nancy Kelly is wearing a beautiful new bracelet put on her arm by Irving Cummings, Jr.; Dorothy Lamour came back to town with permanent braces on her teeth because she didn't expect to work—now she has to have them removed; is the Ann Sheridan-George Brent romance a studio buildup? Peter Saltonstall, son of the Governor of Massachusetts, has asked Annie to go to the Harvard senior prom on March 23. That's certainly bearding the lion in its den after the Lampon crack at her; lucky Mary Martin ordered to gain ten pounds; Tom Brown and Anne Nagel, as first told in this column, are talking marriage in May when his divorce from Natalie Draper becomes final; Madeleine Carroll is taking herself far, far away to Redondo Beach for the summer months; Charles Boyer is still doing his best to get his mother out of France and here to California; it's Barbara O'Neill to whom Anatole Litvak is now paying attention.

PAULETTE GODDARD, in the midst of three pictures, took time out today to tell me she and Charles Chaplin and the two Chaplin boys, Charles, Jr. and Sidney, are leaving in June for three months in the Orient. When they return Paulette will do "Vallejo Kitty" which Charlie bought for her from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer who had intended it for Jean Harlow. It will be Paulette's next when she returns. Anna Knox, the author, who is in private life Mrs. Henry Danielle, is writing the adaptation. Oh, yes Paulette's three jobs at the moment are close-ups for "The Dictator" for Charlie, added scenes for "The Ghost Breaker" and "Northwest Mounted" which she starts this week.

TWO-MINUTE STORY

THE NEW apartment was a honey, sure enough, and the second floor just right. Jack and Jill discussed the occupants of the other rentals and particularly the couple below. He looked like a good natured chap and his wife like something right out of a book. A model!

Jill did right well herself as far as beauty was concerned, but even she recognized the super quality of the lady below.

It was a nice place anyway, and the convenience of the garage in the back was worth a lot and, lady or not, she was here to stay even if Jack was a bit susceptible.

NEXT MORNING Jack bounded down the front stairs, around the long walk at the side, to the garage in the rear.

As he passed the corner room, which he knew was the bedroom, for their apartment was identical, he saw the lady watching him from behind the curtains. "Ah"—he thought. When he started out of the driveway she was still there and he tipped his hat gallantly.

The second morning the same thing happened. He doffed his hat and she stood motionless until he was out of sight.

Jill knew nothing of this and Jack didn't mention it. Nothing wrong, of course, but a bit of a thrill to be admired by so lovely a woman.

AFTER A WEEK Jack began to think she might give him a tiny wave of the finger at least. But she didn't! So he decided to dally purposely and give her a good chance.

He backed the car out of the garage, jumped out to examine a perfectly good spare tire, tighten the holder, etc. and glanced up at the window. She was there, and he gave her a dazzling smile, hoping she would return it.

Just then a slight breeze separated the curtains. Beauty was in dusty pink—but Jack gaped—headless. Jack grew a penny red. He had been flirting with her dress form.

LISTEN, WORLD! By Elsie Robinson

WHY DO WE fall out of love? Why are we at first so fond of our friends, then so furious at them? Why do lovers, who were so mad about each other before the wedding, become so mad at each other six months after?

Why do even parents chill off toward their children—coddle them when they are babies; curse them out when they begin to express their own personalities?

THAT'S WHY—there's the answer to all three questions—because they DO begin to express their own personalities. BECAUSE THEY DARE TO BE THEMSELVES.

Nine times out of ten when we "fall in love" we don't fall in love with a person at all. WE FALL IN LOVE WITH A PICTURE.

We fall in love with something which seems to be the living reproduction of our own secret dream.

All our lives we have had a favorite notion of what a friend should be, what a lover should be, what a child should be. A nice, neat, comfortable plan that precisely fitted all our personal prejudices and programs.

Then along comes this Wonderful Person or this Adorable Child—and we "fall in love."

So everything is lovely for a while. Just as long as the Object of Our Affection continues to act as we think he or she should act—just as long as he or she doesn't disturb the pleasing picture we've created for our own selfish gratification—just that long, everything is lovely.

But sooner or later the inevitable happens. Sooner or later the Object of Our Affections stops being just an object and begins to be an individual, with all an individual's personal idiosyncrasies and inconsistencies. Which means that we, on our side, must force ourselves to be patient and understanding; must make uncomfortable adjustments and disagreeable sacrifices.

Love isn't a candy cake. It's a challenge. CAN YOU TAKE IT? If you can't, don't blame the other fellow. Tag yourself for the quitter which you are—and get out of the game until you can grow up.

Record, Held Over at Loew's

Due to record-breaking attendances at Loew's State and Orpheum theaters, "Rebecca," the film adapted from Daphne DuMaurier's best selling novel, will be held over for a second week.

Starring Laurence Olivier and Joan Fontaine in Alfred Hitchcock's first American production, "Rebecca" is the eerie and chilling mystery story of a girl whose marriage is nearly ruined by the singular domination of her husband's dead first wife.

Though Rebecca is dead, her forceful personality and dramatic beauty still continue to dominate Manderley and to haunt the lives of those who wander through its immense rooms.
Judith Anderson, as the adictically cruel Mrs. Danvers, turns in a screen portrait which is unforgettably brilliant, and the performances of Olivier and Miss

Shad Season Is Here

By MARTHA LEE

LIKE MANY OTHER good things, the shad season is with us only once a year, during the early spring months. Millions of people look forward eagerly to this season, for they know that shad is really one of the thrills of dining.

So popular has the shad been among lovers of good food that today the supply is only about one-tenth of what it was at the turn of the century. It has become necessary to pass conservation laws to protect this fish from becoming extinct. Thus the seasons for catching shad are usually very short.

The shad lives most of its life in the deep sea but comes up rivers, much like the salmon, to spawn. It is a bony fish, but perhaps it is from its plentiful supply of bones that it gets its fine taste, for there are many gourmets who believe that when you take the bones out, you take the taste out.

Soft-fleshed and fat, shad is distinguished by its silvery color and dark spots. It weighs from 1½ to 2 pounds and is sold whole. Following are some shad recipes taken from the Seafood Cook Book, prepared by the Bureau of Consumers' Service of New York City.

BAKED SHAD

Stuff shad with a bread dressing. Spread fish with oil or lay stripes of bacon or salt pork over it. Put a small amount of water in baking pan. Bake and remove fish. Add to liquid in pan 1 tablespoon of catsup, 1 tablespoon of flour, juice of 1 lemon and 1 small glass grape or current jelly. Boil up; strain and pass with the fish.

SHAD SULTANA

Split fish as for broiling and lay flesh side up in an oiled baking pan. Pour ¼ cup of water mixed with the juice of 1 lemon over the fish. Cover with slices of tomato or whole drained Italian canned tomatoes. Sprinkle with chopped parsley. Scatter ¼ cup raisins over the fish. Season with salt and pepper. Dot fish liberally with butter, or pour oil over the top. Bake.

SHAD DE LUXE

Cook 1 onion in 3 cups water 5 minutes. Add a shad seasoned with salt, 6 peppercorns and 1 very small cinnamon. Cook 10 minutes. Add 2 lemons sliced and seeds removed, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 large apple sliced, 12 chopped almonds and ¼ cup raisins. Cook until fish is done, about 10 minutes. Remove fish, onion, peppercorns and cinnamon. Thicken stock by adding 2 beaten eggs and cooking 1 minute; or use 1 tablespoon cornstarch mixed with little cold water. Pour unstrained sauce over the fish.

CUCUMBER STUFFING FOR FISH

2 slices bacon
1 onion
½ cup mushrooms
2 cups cucumber, chopped
1 tsp. melted butter
1 cup soft bread crumbs
Dash of salt, pepper
2 eggs, slightly beaten
Chop together the bacon, onion and mushrooms, add remaining ingredients and mix well. Makes 3 cups of stuffing or enough to fill one large fish.

Select roe with unbroken skin. Parboil in salted water to cover, with 1 tablespoon vinegar to each quart of water. Plunge roe into cold water; drain, let stand 5 minutes. Cook.

Love

Rush Seems To Be Over

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: My girl friend, who is 21 years old, met a young man last June and saw him every Sunday and holidays, as it takes him a couple of hours to get to her place. For her birthday he gave her his ring, which he said had never left his finger. He came to their home for Thanksgiving dinner and brought her a box of candy. Although she saw him only once a week, he called her on the phone every other night.

She has not seen him since November, but he continued to call her up until the day before Christmas. He always made excuses for not coming to see her, saying someone was ill in the family.

She has had several invitations from other young men, but she continually refuses them, and now asks my advice. But I feel that you can give much better advice than I can. Do you think she should send back the ring?

M. V. G. It looks to me decidedly as if this young man's interest in your girl friend is tapering off. Some girls cling to souvenirs of past affairs, especially when their interests in the giver are still lively.

As the young man hasn't been to see her since November, and there has been no talk of anything serious in their acquaintance, a high-spirited girl, I believe, would return the young man's ring. If she's of the ultra-sentimental type, who likes to make herself unhappy over souvenirs of past loves, she'll probably want to hold on to the ring.

You Can Be Beautiful

Carnation Bath Powder

By ARLINE GOULD

NOT LONG ago we gave the news of a grand bath soap that exuded fragrance like a whole conservatory full of carnations with the spring sun on it... so much of a success was the soap that it was followed up by a matching "Dianthus" dusting powder. And this looks like a winner (and certainly smells like one), too!

If you're finicky about ensembles, your bath things, you'll love the creation of this pair, and there is nothing more suitable to the mood of springtime than the lovely, fresh, romantic carnation fragrance.

You'll be pleasantly surprised by the color of the bath powder—it is the brilliant rose pink of the true carnation... and with "Dianthus" the shade is sweet and soft, fused when you dust it on and it does lend a bit more pink to all the better!

It's the kind of interesting conceit that we positively don't get!

More and more frigidates now demand matching accents in their toilet accessories... and a good idea, too, because a conglomerate of even the most exquisite perfumes is quite as bad as a color rampage in costume accessories.

If you would like to learn its name of this new true carnation fragrance bath powder, phone Arline Gould, LLBerty 4960, week-days until five-thirty, or write, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Sponsors Plan For Ballet

Mrs. William B. Long and Mrs. Oscar Hausermann, co-chairmen of a benefit performance of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo at the Boston Opera House, April 16, presided at a committee meeting yesterday morning at the Ritz-Carlton.

A gay flower tuxedo added a festive springlike note to Mrs. Long's dark ensemble and fur jacket, and Mrs. Hausermann wore gold accessories with her brown wool crepe outfit.

Meeting with them to discuss plans for the opening night, which will benefit the Burroughs Newsboys Foundation, were Mrs. Edward Dune who was modishly dressed in a crimson and green plaid skirt, solid green jacket and jaunty green hat; Miss Peggy Stuart, conductor of the Junior League Orchestra, wearing brown tweeds with a matching hat; Mrs. Harry E. Burroughs, Mrs. William P. Allen and Mrs. Basil Gavin who accented her blonde hair with a princess frock of Alice blue velvet piped with checked wool, and a checked sailor hat to match.

Fortitude of Hockey Players Awes Ice Fans

By AUSTEN LAKE

NEW YORK, March 27—The New York Rangers shook off their cerements and rose from the tomb shortly before midnight when Murray Patrick, the pugilistic member of the Patrick clan, shovelled a shot from the blue line that may be worth $50,000 to his hockey firm and won, 1 to 0. Up to the moment that he caromed the cup cake off Dit Clapper's shin and hence into the hut, it was anybody's game with Lady Luck shining her toothpaste smile first to right and then to left. But in the end her lovely puss puckered a kiss for the Rangers and the 16,504 clients went home to a late sleeping.

AUSTEN LAKE

It was a dull game in which the athletes stuck to their science and the crowd found little use for their fish-bugles, burglar alarms and multifarious ear-splitting machinery. In fact, the only noise, until Murray Patrick pushed the black bath-stopper past Brimsek nine minutes and 20 seconds before the final buzzer was a vast, sucking sigh that sounded like the March wind moaning in the upper corners of the Taft Hotel—as it is moaning now.

It was an afterthought goal, so that all the Bruins got for their visit was a hollow feeling in the pits of their tummies and a busted pivot tooth by Bobby Bauer, a casualty received while trying to climb Babe Pratt's thick trunk. Bobby managed to get as far as Babe's foliage when he fell off flush on his tooth.

After it was over and while his employees were unhitching their fur coats and leaving their woollens in damp puddles on the rubber bath mat, Mr. Frank Boucher, the Rangers fence thumper, formed the loose wrinkles of his face into a smile like a cat that had just swallowed the family goldfish. "You may say," quotes Mr. Boucher, "that I am satisfied."

This was an epic of optimism and even Mr. Bill King, the patriarch of the press box, could not remember when he had heard Mr. Boucher say that he was satisfied. But over in the Bruins' boujior there was an aching silence. The boys hadn't expected to win on the Rangers' postage stamp rink, and they were not disappointed. Dr. Crowley, the firm's physician, wound some surgical plaster around Des Smith's bent ankle. Trainer Mammy Moore fumbled with an arm load of sticks. Dit Clapper swallowed the top of a tonic bottle and Frank Brimsek dropped his best pants in a path puddle. Phooie!

It was funny how Patrick got his goal, which may be papa and mama to 1940 Stanley Cup. The big electric scoreboard showed a pair of goose eggs for both sides as the boys came out after changing their underwear for the third period, and the Rangers and Frankie Brimsek galloping around in his goal mouth like a man wrestling with an octopus. Down at the Ranger end the rink was as naked as a sun bather but the Bruins acted like a lot of hysterical kitchen maids trying to await a hornet in the house.

That was where Phil Watson sneaked the puck and went scooting around the Bruins' net like a bundle thief in a bargain basement. He might have hogged the glory for himself, but being a good company man, he passed it to Bryan Hexall who seemed to say, "No thank you, I am no shot hog," and nudged it to Murray Patrick who gave it a goalmouthy shove. And that was where the black lozenge bounced off Dit Clapper's shin and into the net, so that Dit stood looking down at his padded pedals as though cursing them for turning him a filthy trick.

"I've fed you and washed you," he seemed to be saying, "I've

Gov. Lehman Approves N. Y. Horse Racing Bill

CLOSE CALL FOR BRUINS—Goalie Frankie Brimsek went flat on the ice to make this save. Note how SPEED-RAY has stopped the puck in mid-air after Brimsek has kicked it away from the strings. Bruin Crawford (No. 6) checks Ranger Pike (No. 6 in dark jersey) out of the way while Ranger Patrick, left, and Bruin Smith, right, swoop towards the loose rubber. LEHMAN APPROVES N. Y. RACE BILL

ALBANY, N. Y., March 27 (INS)—Gov. Herbert H. Lehman's approval of the bill bringing pari-mutuel betting at horse races to New York State was considered certain today.

The Governor had objected to a provision setting up a bi-parlisan four-member racing board and this was eliminated at the last minute. The present three-member commission which the Governor appoints without limitation and which is headed by Herbert Bayard Swope will continue to control racing and betting.

The legislature is expected to finish action on the bill Friday night and the Governor was expected to sign it pronto. Thus, when the 1940 New York racing season opens at Jamaica April 15, pari-mutuel machines will be in operation.

A 10-man committee will be appointed by the legislature to watch the operation of the first year of the mutuels. Lehman hopes to raise $5,000,000 through the mutuels to help the State budget. The voters authorized the machines by a constitutional amendment last year.

Marshall for Bleacherites

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—George Marshall, president of the Washington Redskins pro football team, says the nation's bleacherite is a bigger man than those who build stadiums think he is.

"Bleacherites seats here have been 16 inches wide," said Marshall today. "Next year we're expanding them to 18 inches. A football fan with a heavy overcoat needs more room."

I'll Be Back Says Dasso

By HERB FINNEGAN

SARASOTA, Fla., March 27 — "I'll see you next spring," beamed Frank Dasso, 22-year-old rookie right hander, as he departed for his franchise. "That heat at Little Rock and Scranton was too much for me last year, and I ought to feel more at home in Frisco. I know I'm going to have a good year. I'm married now, and I've got to make some dough, and the only place to make it is in the big leagues. I'll be back. You can bet on that."

Dasso was delighted to go to Frisco for more than one reason. His wife expects an infant in a month or two, and Joe Cronin has given the young pitcher permission to stop at his Chicago home for a few days to see that everything is going O. K. More than that, his wife has relatives in Frisco, and the Dassos planned to live at Santa Anna on the coast next winter, anyway.

Dasso has enough stuff to make a big league pitcher right now, but he has a habit of making his catches too good. We can recall vividly a year ago how he'd strike out a couple of Dodgers, making them look sick with his curve ball, only to have the next hitter belt one out of the park.

Red Sox Game Off

SARASOTA Fla., March 27 — The Red Sox and Brooklyn clubs were forced to remain idle today because it really rained in this town. The downpour throughout the night and early today made the playing field a quagmire of mud. The Sox welcomed the rest after a strenuous week of practice and Grapefruit encounters.

His no-hit, no-run game at Little Rock last spring was a masterpiece, Fred Winder, owner of the club, says, but after that Dasso went so poorly Winder had to let him go back to Scranton. With a little balance, he should be a whiz. Happy in his new surroundings, he may blossom into the pitcher they expected him to be a year back.

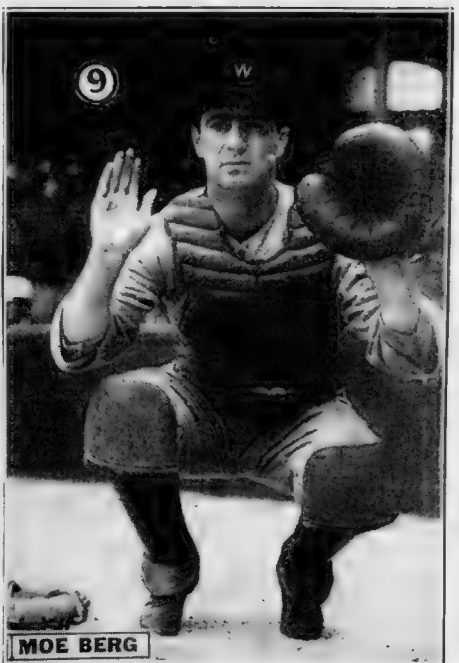

Earl Johnson, the Coast kid, was happy to go to Rocky Mountain because Cy Greenlaw, another left-handed pitcher who played semi-pro ball with Earl in Tacoma, is also with Rocky Mount. That will prevent nostalgia.

Johnson came right off St. Mary's campus to the Red Sox. He has control and a remarkable curve ball. He's only 20-years old, though, and the Sox figure steady work in a B league will help him smooth out the rough spots. St. Mary's is only 20 miles from Frisco, and Earl says that when the Seals were playing away from home, St. Mary's used to play night baseball games in the Seals park and come dough.

Rookie pitchers don't get much of a chance to work in a spring camp, and if they come up with a sore arm or do poorly their first chance out, their fate is sealed. Johnson pitched only in one game, against Newark, and passed five men in two innings. He was trying to put too much on the ball. In the third inning he was more relaxed and got the side out in jig time.

Heflin worked twice, against the Reds at Tampa, and against Louisville at Arcadia. He was great against the Reds, but Louisville shellacked him. He's a fine-looking broad-shouldered right hander, from Fredericksburg, Va., whom Fritz Ostermuller brought out to the Washington Park two years ago for a test. The Sox liked him, and signed him.

McElroy Rated Best Prospect in B's Camp

By BILL GRIMES

BRADENTON, Fla., March 27—Since the start of the Grapefruit League season, Dick Conger, who played high school and Legion ball with George Metkovich, the 18-year-old first baseman Casey Stengel brought East to try out for the Bees, has been the outstanding rookie pitcher in the Detroit Tiger camp over at Lakeland.

Conger and Metkovich played for Fremont High School and the Sun Line Post of the American Legion, out in Los Angeles for two years. A year ago last month, Conger was traded to the Los Angeles branch of the University of California but he quit the first of last February to make a bid for a job with the Tigers.

Although it is pretty much of a secret as far as the general baseball public is concerned, the Bees have a rookie pitcher by the name of Wilbur McElroy, who, according to no less an authority than Marty Krug, scout for Detroit on the Pacific Coast, is even a better prospect than Conger.

RELEASED BY LANDIS

Conger, Metkovich and McElroy all played under Marty Krug on the Coast. The Detroit club sponsors, at least it did, an amateur team out in Los Angeles, which is known as the Detroit Juniors.

Just as soon as Judge Landis' decision against the Detroit club was released, Marty Krug contacted Casey Stengel and tipped the Bees' manager off to Bill McElroy and George Metkovich. Conger was allowed to remain with the Detroit organization by Landis because he hadn't signed a contract until late fall.

Naturally, Marty Krug likes Dick Conger. Otherwise, he would not have sent the Californian up to the Tigers. But, according to what he told Casey Stengel, Krug believes that Bill McElroy is a better prospect than Conger.

BEAT CONGER

During his high school and Legion ball career, Bill McElroy tied up in many pitching battles with Dick Conger. Bill was the "ace" hurler for the Leonard Wood Post of the American Legion for two seasons. And, it was Bill's victory over Conger that sent his Legion club East to Spaitenburg, S. C. for the final rounds of the American Legion championship in 1936.

At the time that he was pitching in the finals of the American Legion championship, Bill McElroy was only 16 years old. He was a freshman in high school. But, as soon as McElroy returned to the Coast, Marty Krug began to camp on his trail. Marty took a great interest in the boy and gave him some valuable pitching tips, the best of which was a change of pace.

ARM GOES DEAD

When Bill McElroy graduated from Washington High School in June of 1938, Marty Krug signed him to a Detroit contract and shipped him out to Harlingen of the Texas Valley League. It was almost July when Bill reported at Harlingen but during the last two months of the Texas Valley League season he established a perfect record of seven victories and no defeats.

After his two months' fling at pro ball, Bill decided to lay off baseball until the next spring. Shortly after the Chicago White Sox went to the Coast to train in the winter of 1939, the Pasadena Junior College, which had scheduled a game against Manager Jimmy Dykes' boys wanted to make a creditable showing against the big leaguers so the authorities decided to bring in a "ringer" battery. Marty Krug was the booking agent and he selected Bill McElroy for the pitcher. "Mac" didn't want to pitch but Marty sold him the idea that it would be good experience. He wasn't in shape and his arm went bad in the fifth inning.

STENGEL CALLS HIM "BEST"

A couple of months later Marty Krug told McElroy to report to Lake Charles, La., of the Evangeline League. A half-witted manager assigned Bill to pitch batting practice the first day in camp and told him to beat down Bill and beat down the whole team. After the game was over and just one for Eddie Charles. That was sold down the river to Harlingen of the Texas Valley League where he stumbled through it, we were but was charged with seven strikeouts.

Bill McElroy didn't like any of this work. He was worried over his arm. And, as he came out the type "Mac" was the first thing that he told Casey Stengel when he "beat" manager Eddie Charles. The contract was that he had paid a good arm all of last season. Casey took the gamble. McElroy lost and the slightest tremor with his arm, and Ol' Casey's arm is one of the best young prospects in the game.

Weinberg in Pro Debut at Mechanics

Bill Weinberg, Chelsea heavyweight, makes his professional debut against Manny Corraera of New Bedford in a special four rounder Friday night at Mechanics building in the Argonne A. A. show. Weinberg won the New England A. A. U. heavyweight title two weeks ago at the Garden.

Weinberg was born in Chelsea 21 years ago. He went to Chelsea high where he played basketball and football.

The Chelsea entry in the professional heavyweight ranks has been boxing two years, has had 30 fights and scored 26 knockouts.

Two pugilists who may be champions before another spring will be seen at Mechanics Friday night when Leo Rodak, Chicago, fights Lloyd Marshall.

Rodak squares off with George Salamone, East Boston, in one 10-round feature; Marshall, California, comes from Fresno, square off with challenger "Red" Lewis, Richmond, Va., in the other.

The favorites are, because of their records, Rodak and Marshall.

Salamone is rough and tough and on the rise. He looks upon Rodak as the most notable opponent he's been called on to meet. He will have a large cheering section Friday night, rooting him on. This is a fight he must win if he's to leap further up the ladder.

Marshall faces a similar proposition in Lewis, who has been knocking them over right and left in Maine rings.

Mack presents a program of 36 rounds Friday night, the twin 10-rounders being well supported by four fours, Fred McLean vs. Joe Delgado, Pat Doyle vs. Dom Colantonio, Eddie Kid Sullivan vs. Tommy Doyle and Dick Schoch vs. Ray Gallant.

Nurmi Expects Maki to Break 3-Mile Record

NEW YORK, March 27 (INS)—Pavlo Nurmi today predicted that Taisto Maki would run the fastest 3-mile race ever seen when the young Finn toes the mark against Gregory Rice, Don Lash and Joe McCluskey in Madison Square Garden Sunday night.

The old Finnish maestro of the tankard and cinder path, declared his young charge not only would win the race but would erase from the books world records that Nurmi himself set 15 years ago.

"I'm afraid that my name is going to disappear from the books after Sunday, said the one-time king of distance runners. "I think six of my records, two held by another Finn, Willie Pihlola, and one to the credit of Edwin Wide, the Swede, are all going to fade."

Nurmi had reference to the intermediate distances between 2000 meters and three miles. Dan Ferris, director of the track meet of champions, has arranged to have a flock of timers stationed at various points to "catch" the runners as they speed to new records.

The first set of marks due to take a beating are Nurmi's 5:22.4 for 2000 meters and his 5:23.8 for 1 1/4 miles and Wide's 6:37.8 for 1 1/4 miles. The should fall before the flying feet of Chuck Fenske, Gene Vonke, Ralph Schwarzkopf or Walter Mehl who will meet in a special 1 1/4 mile race.

Seven more world marks will be endangered in the 3-mile run. These are Nurmi's 7:51.4 for 1 1/2 miles; 8:39 for 1 3/4 miles; 10:19 for 2 1/4 miles; 11:30.5 for 4000 meters; Pihlola's 11:44.8 for 2 1/2 miles and finally, Gregory Rice's recent 13:55.9 for the full three miles.

Joe Medwick Signs Contract

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 27 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, the dopsters' nominee for the National League flag, scored a crucial off-the-diamond victory in signing baseball's No. 1 holder.

Outfielder Joe Medwick, who thought his slugging talents worth at least $20,000 this year—a return to his 1933 salary—changed his mind last night and accepted the Cardinals' "deadline" offer of $18,000, same as he earned last season.

Boston After Dark

INSTEAD, THE TOWN OF HAMMONDSTOWN holds the site of the projected oval. . . This is a burg which does not show on a map we have at hand, but it is said to be 28 miles from Philadelphia, and that is less distance than separates Pawtucket from Boston. . . To this department, the combination of an "agricultural" and a "breeding" association gave us temporary pause. . . Then we recalled that scouts had identified Mr. O'Hara as a victor to the recent flower show at Mechanics Building.

AT THE TIME we remember having been surprised at Mr. O'Hara's interest in displays of fauna and flora, or either. . . He being an unpredictable case, we stuck the item in a mental pigeon-hole for future use. . . It's all clear now, if a report we hear is true. . . Mr. O'H. has given up penthouses in favor of hothouses and is planning to build a new one. . . Outdoing Hialeah Park's exhibit of flamingoes, and Suffolk Downs' essay at broccoli culture, the O'Hara agricultural and breeding association will fill the infield of its race track with posies of all descriptions.

IT'S PRACTICAL at that. . . Garlands from the track's own gardens can be draped around the necks of nags which win the stakes. . . Here's an O'Hara postscript! . . . Remember the expensive litigation in which Mr. O'Hara and his last year's partner in the Battle of Ballots at Gansett, James Connors, were principals? . . . One of the most jovial parties of the early spring in the Copley Plaza's Merry-Go-Round featured another battle between the two—but it was a fight to see who could catch the check. . . Yes, sir, we do not think we are guilty of over-statement when we call Mr. O'Hara unpredictable. . . He and Mr. Connors were as chummy as Gordon and Crosetti. . . (It's a hundred thousand dollars, roundly, that Walter was suing Mr. Connors for.)

rubbed nice smelling liniment on you and put you to bed." In fact, Dit showed plainly that he wished to disown the ungrateful limbs. His skins must have blushed.

Well, the silence in the big arch had been terrific up to that moment with the New York patrons inhaling all the loose air until the small Boston delegation was about to yell for pulmonators. So it was a darn good thing that Patrick sank his shot before the Boston people swooned from suffocation because just as he did, the New Yorkers expelled their breath in one grand cataclysmic shout and there was enough breathing atmosphere to go around again.

I never stop marvelling at the fortitude of these pro hockey players—Des Smith for instance. For Des dented his skull in a terrific train wreck with Phil Watson in Boston last Sunday and said he still heard cow-bell symphonies and dish-pan clankings in his head. He also had a gipsy right knee, which was painful to the touch, injuries which in any other line of sport would incapacitate a man for several weeks.

A professional business fighter would have gone into a month's retirement. A baseball player of our current breed would have been casted away for convalescence in a hospital. But a hockey player—pouff! A brain concussion and a sprained ligament! Boy, bring me my stick and skates.

Finally to add to his other miseries Des was carted off with a brand new sprain in his remaining leg. Did he holler and moan? He did not! He just lounged around in the pink and perspiring nude, resting his aches and breathing little beathen pledges to create pain and havoc when he faced the enemy in Boston.

So the series goes back to evens and Boston, with the Saturnalia called hockey, continued probably to another of those four-out-of-seven, cash-in-advance, affairs and the prospect of carrying the winter season right into baseball. I trust the Bruins will win this one like they did the one last year, in the 48th minute of overtime in the seventh contest, because the circus waited Madison Square Garden on April 6 and the Rangers won't have any home ice for their half of the big, climatic cup finals.

Mr. BOSTON

By JACK CONWAY

TROPICAL PARK, Coral Gables, Fla., March 26.
Dear Mr. Boston:

I am glad that as a horse player you were enough interested in my new "bird cage" system for beating the races to ask me for details concerning it. I know that you have been trying to come up with a winning system for these many years, and I now believe that I have it. It is my plan to start it in my code book, "Dave Wilson's Winners," of April 1. You can then get the code horses in the Race Special Edition of the Boston Evening American.

Here is the big news! I hope will rock the mutual machines and put the bookmakers in the bread lines. I must confess that the average bookmaker is as cold as a mutual machine, and so I am not going to weep if he is sent to the cleaners. The bookmakers certainly have pressed out their customers, and I think it is time they took a little of their own medicine.

Under the "bird cage" system I shall pick three special horses each day.

Just to use a few names, we'll say my selections are Bimelech, Seabiscuit and Challeaden. Even Clocker Bill Smith and Sargeant Eddie Mack will admit these three thoroughbreds are pretty fair horses.

Under the "bird cage" system, I make a series of win, place and show parlays. I have win, place and show parlays going on Bimelech and Seabiscuit. I also have win, place and show parlays on Seabiscuit and Challeaden. Then I have a third win, place and show parlay on Bimelech and Challeaden. That gives me three possible parlay combinations.

If I play $1 on each spot in each parlay, my total investment is $3. In the event of my three selections winning, I hit the jackpot and step out for a champagne party with the missus. A hit on the place parlay will probably show a profit, while if the show parlay clicks I should break even.

Of course, I must pick winners, and that is what I am going to try to do.

Wilson Starts for Bowie Saturday Night

I SHALL LEAVE Miami by plane for Baltimore on Saturday night, and will be at Bowie in time to handicap the races for Monday's Boston Evening American, and also to get the horses I wish for my "bird cage" system. I shall take all tracks into consideration in picking the horses for the "bird cage" system. I may hop around in my choices, from Bowie to Tropical Park to Ocala.

I wish you would allow me a $100 bankroll for my "bird cage" system. I shall try to run the $100 into a grand.

The three horses I shall name for my "bird cage" system will possess plenty of class, and if you wish you may play any of them separately. You can also take a flier at my "bird cage" system.

Yours for Winners,
DAVE WILSON.

Dave Wilson in Winning Streak

WILSON IS STARTING his new "bird cage" system at a time when he is in the midst of a hectic winning streak. Dave has been leading all handicappers at Tropical Park, while Bowie has been one of his lucky spots. Wilson was born in Maryland, and when he gets back home he comes up with many winning horses.

Wilson knows the owners of the Maryland breeding farms, which is one of the reasons he has been so successful in telling when first time starters have been ready to click. Dave is also friendly with Maryland horsemen, owners and officials, and has better information than any other handicapper as to what may be expected to happen at a Maryland track.

I may end up in Wilson's "bird cage" myself, but I am going to give his new betting system a whirl. I'll be waiting in line to get my copy of "Dave Wilson's Winners," code book, and then get the code horses from the Racing Edition of next Monday's Boston Evening American.

The "cage bird" system starts April 1. And it isn't an April fool joke, I hope, as I shall be playing it with the family bank roll.

Win With Wilson!

I always think of that slogan when I am cashing a winning ticket at one of our New England tracks.

If Wilson's new system clicks, I am going to buy a "bird cage," place a canary in it, call the bird Seabiscuit and give the outfit to Dave. A bird cage would make an excellent coat of arms for the Wilson family.

Provided, of course, Dave's new system clicks.

Is Danno 44th Victim?

The top wrestling bout Boston has seen this year takes place tomorrow night at the Arena when the bulky Angel pits his strength against Dan O'Mahony, husky Irish boy and former world's champion.

The two are recognized as outstanding title challengers. The Angel has swept to 43 straight victories, five here in Boston, and Danno is in the midst of a great comeback.

His feats of strength, such as pulling up a fair-sized tree by the roots, have won The Angel the distinction of being the world's strongest man. But wrestlers who have faced both say they'd just as soon give Danno their vote in this matter.

The Angel will, as usual, rely wholly on his "bear hug" and hopes to squeeze Danno into submission, while the big Irish boy will use his Irish Whip at every opportunity.

In the semi-final Ernest Franz Heifer meets Frank Judson, while preliminaries include Marvin Westenberg vs. Karl Pajello, Pedro Brazil vs. Frank Eidant and Frank Marconi vs. Luigi Bagalupoli.

Many Bowlers Enter 4 Events To Give Luck Chance to Arrive

33

EVENING AMERICAN, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 27, 1940

Huge batches of entries ranging from 50 to 150 have been heading into headquarters at the fifth annual American-Record-Advertiser New England Diamond Medal Bowling Championships near that opening date.

Promptly at noon Saturday the long awaited championships get under way at the Huntington Club.

LEVER BROTHERS LEAD

Lever Brothers of Cambridge head the list of group entries with 26 teams but close behind is the Statler Hotel group with 24 teams and then comes the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. tied with Sears Roebuck—both having 20 teams listed to competition.

One of the unusual features of the blanks filed at the Huntington Club to date is the large number of men entered in four events. It seems that competition for that All Events championship which brings a diamond studded medal and a beautiful Elgin wrist watch is going to be keener than ever before.

The only men eligible for the All Event Championship are those who roll in the singles, doubles, mixed doubles and on a team.

UNBEATABLE AT TIMES

Several of the keggers who have entered all four events insist that the all-around title is one of their aims but that there is another reason, too.

One gentleman who is connected with a down town insurance company had this to say:

"Everybody knows that there is an element of luck in bowling. Just how great it is I do not know. Some nights I am unbeatable and on others I am just an average bowler."

"By entering four events I feel that I may click in one of them. Even though I may miss the singles my partner and myself may just be hitting them right in the doubles and maybe we will get a championship there."

That evidently is the attitude of many others.

Eddie Collins, Jr. Man Sticks With A's

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 27—Manager Doc Prothro believes that Chuck Klein, slugging outfielder released by the Pirates and signed by the Phillies, may supply the spark that will start the entire team hitting. "He is a great hustler, a fine fellow to have on the club, and I believe he still can hit in a manner that will help us," Prothro said.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—Two youngsters that didn't have much chance of staying with the A's may get that chance, Connie Mack indicated today. Both Eddie Collins and Al Brancato have come along rapidly and Brancato may even start the season at third base.

ORLANDO, Fla.—The Detroit Tigers meet the Washington Senators on the ball field today—but there's no meeting of the minds as far as a player deal is concerned. The Tigers made Clark Griffith an offer for infield talent and suggested he figure out a counter proposal. But so far the Old Fox hasn't replied.

ORLANDO, Fla.—Making one of the worst spring showings in years, officials of the Washington Senators are ready to do almost anything to give the club some life. With the exception of Dutch Leonard and Buddy Lewis, the report is that Owner Clark Griffith will swap anybody in his club and there is a possibility that a deal with the Detroit Tigers is in the offing.

TAMPA, Fla.—The Giants were jubilant today as they faced the Cincinnati Reds—for they had done what they probably won't do again until next spring rolls around—walked the Yankees. In a Winter Haven game yesterday, they outlasted the champs by 14-13 as Hal Schumacher turned in his best pitching performance of the year.

HAINESS CITY, Fla.—The Kansas City farmhands of the Yankees had better be on their toes today for they are to meet the older brothers—the Yankees. Somewhat humiliated over their defeat by the Giants, the Yanks nevertheless hit the way Tommy Henrich, Buddy Roman and Babe Dahlgren hit homers yesterday. Tommy and Buddy got two apiece.

SARASOTA, Fla.—Larry MacPhail, the free-speaking boss of the Brooklyn Dodgers, admitted today that the club's chances of landing in the higher berth than it did last year had been considerably heightened by the better-than-expected showing of Pee Wee Reese and Charley Gilbert, the prize rookies. Reese was yesterday's hero, hitting over the beam, driving in three runs with three timely blows.

LOS ANGELES—The Pirates called on Lefty Dick Lanning and Joe Bowman today to try to stop the lusty Chicago Cubs who have hung up two straight over the Bucs. Manager Frankie Frisch said he thought he'd call on either Bob Klinger or Max Butcher to open the regular season against St. Louis next month.

TAMPA, Fla.—It is understood that Cincinnati Reds officials, who remain mum, have sent "feelers" to the Pirates in hopes of obtaining Paul Waner, and also that the Reds would part with a sizable sum for the Yankees' Jake Powell. In condition for sale, his return is unsatisfactory to Manager Bill McKechnie, so he sent them through a swift workout Tuesday.

FORT MYERS, Fla.—The Cleveland Indians bid goodbye to their training camp site here today in a game with the Chicago Cubs. The Indians, who were to mark the first appearance of Mel Harder, providing a test for the problem arm that handicapped the Tribe in '38. Paul O'Donoghue went back to Cleveland for treatment of an eye injury, caused when he was struck by a foul tip. Doctors say his vision is not threatened.

LOS ANGELES—Billy Nicholson, who made a fine debut with the Chicago Cubs last August, but who wound up in an October hitting slump, still can't find his batting eye—and he's a cinch to get a demotion on Hank Leiber's return to the lineup. Billy's spring average is near the .200 mark.
